

FIRES AND EXPLOSIONS TAKE TOLL OF LIVES; TENEMENT HOUSE FIRE TRAP IN KANSAS

McKinney Was Freed From The Pen Today

COLUMBUS, O., February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Clarence Leroy McKinney, who has served five months of a life sentence for murder, freed through the confession of Louis Vandervoort, son of a wealthy Jamestown farmer, stepped from the gray walls of the Ohio penitentiary at 12:05 p. m. today practically a free man.

McKinney and his wife greeted each other with no great display of emotion, but there was an atmosphere of restraint which gave promise of a real reunion to come later.

Upon the arrival of the party at Wilmington, Judge Cleenger will convene the court and the charge of murder was expected to be nolle prosequitur.

Louis Vandervoort, who confessed to killing Policeman Emory McCreight, of Wilmington, February 14, 1922, and the crime for which McKinney had been imprisoned, entered the penitentiary late Wednesday to begin his life sentence.

WILMINGTON, O., February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The fine of $2,000 assessed against Leroy McKinney, when he was found guilty of having killed liquor in his possession, prior to sentencing of McKinney to the state penitentiary for life for the murder of a private policeman here, will be suspended. It was turned over to the state authority today.

Bride Wealthy, But He Works In Overalls

When Mile. Aileen Asta Peters of Zurich, Switzerland, met Sergeant of Engineers W. W. Clark, U. S. A., in Cologne, his army pay, multiplied into German marks, looked like a million dollars at a minute. She loved him and when he returned to America she followed. He told her he was poor, but that made no difference to her, for she is rich. He married her, but refused to touch her money. Now, wearing overalls, he is following his regular profession as a bridge worker, near Cherry Vale, Kansas. She is perfectly satisfied that her husband is a workingman, despite her wealth.

Claims Witnesses Spirited Away

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. VA., February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Declaring that four of the principal witnesses for the prosecution had been mysteriously spirited away from Berkeley Springs, and that circulars designed to influence prospective jurors had been widely distributed in Morgan county, Prosecuting Attorney H. D. Allen today filed a motion in circuit court asking that the indictment against C. Frank Keeny, president of the West Virginia United Mine Workers as an accessory to murder, be nolle prossed.

American Sentiment On Wines And Beer A Puzzle

(This is the fifth of a series of seven dispatches written after an exhaustive study of the prohibition question in which President Harding, Prohibition Commissioner Roy Haynes, Assistant Attorney General Willebrandt, Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League, Capt. W. H. Stayton of the National Association Opposed to Prohibition and other leaders submitted to private interviews with the writer and gave their candid opinions on law enforcement and the outlook.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Many people who have no desire whatsoever to see the saloon or hard whiskey come back to legalized sale in America have wondered why the prohibitionists object to light wines and beer and what are the chances for such a modification of existing laws as to permit beverages of more alcoholic content than one-half of one percent to be sold.

The question is not a bit complicated. It is simply two-sided and the only way to determine for yourself what the probable outcome

Widow Destroys Self On Husband's Funeral Pyre

CALCUTTA, February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—A case of suttee, reported from a village in Etawah district, indicates that the ancient Hindu custom of widow suicide has not yet entirely disappeared. Suttee is the name given to a Hindu widow, who, to avoid the social stigma of widowhood, throws herself upon the funeral pyre of her husband and dies by the fire which consumes his remains. A British law making the abettor of a suttee liable to conviction for abetment of suicide or murder has tended to cause the rite to die out, but it is still practiced occasionally in some parts of India.

In the case reported from Etawah, one Ganga Din Ahir, aged 28, died after a brief illness. His wife, Musamat Rukka, three years younger, immediately after his death, announced her intention to become a suttee. Members of the family attempted to dissuade her from this intention, but she did not yield.

On the following morning when the body of Ganga Din was taken for cremation, the widow, dressed as a bride, followed carrying several lighted candles. When the body was arranged for burning, she walked around the pyre as a token of respect, then mounted it and sat with her husband's head in her lap while the fire was applied to the wood.

As a result of the woman's death, a criminal case was started against six men of the village. Three of the defendants were acquitted, and the others sentenced to four years' imprisonment. They claimed they had no knowledge of the woman's intention.

Find Aged Woman Half Famished And Helpless In Bed Beside Dead Sister

CINCINNATI, O., February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Neighbors on entering a cottage at Dayton, Ky., last night found Mrs. Maria L. Mansfield, 67, half famished and helpless, lying in bed beside the frozen body of her sister Mrs. Margaret Lanham, 75. Both women were fully clothed. There was no heat, no food and no water in the house.

Coroner W. B. Hughes said he believed Mrs. Lanham had been dead for perhaps a week, and that death was due to pneumonia, brought on by starvation and cold. Her sister, daily growing weaker from lack of food, had lain beside the dead woman for days, not knowing she had perished. She thought her sister sleeping, she said last night during lucid moments.

Mrs. Mansfield refused to be taken to a hospital, declaring she and her sister had "never believed in" physicians and that she had enough physical courage to cure herself.

Samuel Patterson, Norwood, Ohio, a brother of the women, told the coroner he visited his sisters two weeks ago, when they assured him they did not want for anything.

Blood Again Shed In Ruhr, German Killed

DUESSELDORF, February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Blood has again been shed in the Ruhr in the course of a French "digging in" process. One German civilian was killed and two others seriously wounded at Bochum yesterday when two French soldiers fired upon a crowd that had gathered to watch the occupation of the law courts.

Observers said that the shooting was done by police who were obviously irritated by the jeers of the bystanders.

The decision of Premiers Poincare and Thominas to operate the railroads through an allied civil administration is seen here as a move to improve transportation conditions.

The functioning of the allied customs ring is threatened with difficulties in consequence of Berlin's order that no taxes be paid to the occupiers. Such payments, the federal minister of finance has decreed will not be recognized by the German government.

Meanwhile the French maintain that their customs barrier is secure and that the course of Germany's economic life has been diverted. The Germans on their part declare through the press that they are adamant in their determination not to yield.

MEDITATION: God's gift of love to his children is their most precious possession, and the more we use the more we have. The law of Divine economy is that to keep his love, we must use it, and if we do not use it, we shall lose it.

HYMN: Work is sweet, for God has blessed honest work with quiet rest, Rest below and rest above In the mansions of his love. When the work of life is done, When the battle's fought and won, PRAYER: O Lord, my heavenly Father, grant me grace to live this day as one of thy children. Keep me from all sin, in thought or word or deed, and enable me to act like a Christian always and everywhere. If I am tried or vexed, make me patient, and if thou dost send sorrow, let me be submissive to thy holy will. Make it my chief joy to do something for thy cause in the earth. And if by reason of human infirmity I should forget thee, do not then forget me, but pardon my sins and accept me in the name of the blessed Savior, to whom with thee and the Holy Ghost be glory forever. May Dissipate Smoke Cloud

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 23.—It is possible that Pittsburgh's smoke cloud will some day be dissipated by science. Dr. J. H. Clo, professor of physics in the University of Pittsburgh said today it may be accomplished by an adaptation of the Bancroft-Warren "rain making" process of spraying the roof of the clouds with electrified sand from an airplane.

Dr. Clo added if the elimination of fogs could be obtained by the use of electrified sand there would seem to be a possibility of charging smoke particles instead of sand particles and similarly clearing the air of smoke and furnace dust, long a problem here.

Dr. D. H. Miller, dean of the school of mines, took a similar view.

Protest Invasion

NEW YORK, February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Although close to 15,000 persons jammed Madison Square Garden, until early today in a mass meeting of protest against the French occupation of the Ruhr, cheering every mention of Germany and according a sepulchral silence to every mention of France, there was no work for some 500 police officers who had been detailed to the scene in anticipation of trouble.

Plain clothes men inside and members of a riot squad, armed with riot guns and stationed outside the garden, were just as idle.

Edward I. Edwards, senator-elect from New Jersey, was not present to preside. Nor was Senator Borah there, although he had been announced as the principal speaker.

The meeting ended with adoption of resolutions urging the United States to settle the difficulties between Germany and France.

"The invasion of the Ruhr," read a telegram from Senator Borah, "threatens unmistakably the peace of a continent, if not the world."

"I should like to see our government exert all possible influence to bring about a conference to the end that the reparations problem might find a satisfactory solution and thereby avoid great suffering and possible bloodshed."

Miners Are Sent To Pen

WELLSBURG, W. VA., Feb. 23.—(By Associated Press)—Thirty miners indicted for conspiracy in the Clatsville strike riot, which cost the lives of Sheriff H. H. Duval and six of the attacking party last July, today entered pleas of guilty and were each sentenced to serve three years in the Moundsville penitentiary by Judge Cammerville in circuit court here.

Many Bodies Are Taken From Smoldering Ruins

KANSAS CITY, KANSAS, February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Seventeen persons are believed to have perished in the fire which destroyed a two-story frame rooming house here early today. Twelve bodies have been recovered and search is being made for those of five others believed to have lost their lives in the blaze. Only three bodies have been identified. The identified dead are: Mrs. Elisha Colston and her children, Violet and John.

The missing are Leo Brown, his wife, Bessie, 28, and children, Catherine, Arthur, Margaret and Leo Jr. Alonzo Dardwell, his wife Lillian, and infant child.

Edgar Munyon and his grandmother Mrs. Munyon.

Mrs. Anna Sargent and her grandson, Donald.

Twelve bodies were recovered this morning, five adults and seven children.

Thirty-five persons were trapped on the second floor when the combination garage and rooming house was enveloped in flames shortly after midnight.

Twenty persons escaped by leaping from windows on the second floor.

One man carrying a five-year-old child under his arm, managed to make his way to a flight of stairs.

As he reached the middle of the flight the fire ate away the under structure and he tumbled the rest of the way.

He started out of the building a few minutes later blackened and scorched. All of the roomers were asleep when the fire started.

Some were awakened by the shout of a pedestrian who found the building ablaze.

When fire equipment arrived the building was enveloped in flames and rescue of other occupants was practically impossible.

When the seething mass, copied, rescue work began.

Relatives were held back by police lines.

One ambulance made continuous trips from the fire to the morgue as the bodies were hauled from underneath bed springs and other pieces of charred furniture.

Some were wedged between autos parked on the first floor.

Many gathered at the morgue and vainly endeavored to identify the masses of flesh and bones that had been taken from the ruins.

Octogenarian Jumps—Saved

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—A woman 80 years, and two men jumped early today from windows and fire escapes in an East Side tenement house fire, believed by the police to have been of incendiary origin.

All three were seriously hurt. A score of others were rescued from fire escapes rapidly becoming red hot. The fire was the fifth that occurred within a radius of three blocks in an hour.

Haynes To Meet Chiefs

WASHINGTON, February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Prohibition Commissioner Haynes will go to Columbus, Ohio, next Monday for a two-day conference with federal and state prohibition officials of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Indiana and Michigan. On Tuesday he will address the Ohio legislature on the problems of prohibition enforcement.

Enforcement questions in general will be considered at the meeting of prohibition chiefs. Mr. Haynes said today that no particular significance attached to the conference which he declared was for the purpose of making a survey of conditions in the midwest.

CAPITOL JOKES.

By Joseph W. Fordney
U. S. Representative From Michigan, Eighth District

I was a summer Sunday evening and the man and his wife were at a tending church.

Outside the church window the crickets were making considerable racket.

Inside, the choir—a very fine one—was finishing an anthem.

As the beautiful final notes of the music died away, the wife turned to her husband and whispered:

"Oh, John, wasn't it wonderful! Wasn't it marvelous?"

"Yes," said John "and the most wonderful part is that they do it all with their blind legs."

Use Body Heat In Theatres

BOSTON, Feb. 23.—Exciting plays and motion pictures cause the temperature of audiences to rise and result in the throwing off of bodily heat that judicious theater owners utilize as a substitute for fuel, according to professor Edward F. Miller, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology who has made tests on Boston audiences.

Some theater owners lower the heat supply as acts approach their climax. But persons according to Miller give much more heat than thin ones as well as create moisture which also is beneficial since the average theater atmosphere is usually dry.

Big Raid On Rebels

DUBLIN, February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Five Irish irregulars, the most important of whom was Sean Fitzpatrick, have been captured by criminal investigation department officers of the free state government in a raid at Drumcondra.

It was stated by army headquarters today, Fitzpatrick is said to be commander of the Dublin brigade of irregulars. It is unofficially stated that the four other men also are irregular officers. It is understood a meeting of the first Dublin battalion of irregulars was proceeding at the time of the arrest.

A rumor was in circulation that Garson DeValera had been arrested, but there was no confirmation.

a financial interest in the liquor business can become a voting member. Here are the main principles:
"Beer and light wines now, but no saloons ever."
"So long as the Prohibition Amendment and the Volstead Act are the law of the land, they should be obeyed."
Thus far there is absolute agreement between the wet and dry organizations. The Anti-Saloon League has succeeded in winning from the other side the concession that the saloon was an evil and should not be permitted to come back.

The two sides begin to diverge when the next principle of the Association Opposed to Prohibition is encountered. It reads as follows:

"Meantime, it is the right of all who still believe in real temperance, in self-respect, self-restraint and the force of moral suasion to work for the modification of Volsteadism."

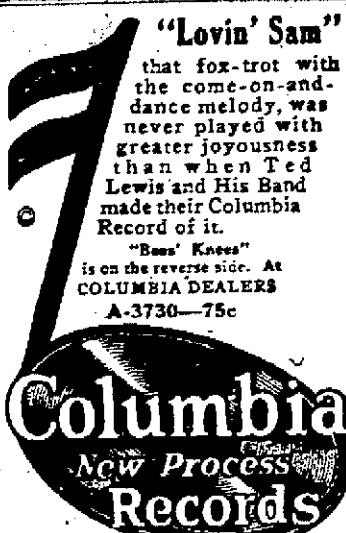

"The Volstead Act goes too far—further than the federal amendment authorized—and should be modified now to conform to the amendment."

"The liquor traffic should be controlled but should have no place in our Federal Constitution, which ought to contain only the framework of government and the great fundamental principles acknowledged of all men and no longer a subject of controversy."

Capt. Stuyton is a mild-mannered man who starts out by denouncing the men who controlled the liquor traffic saying they brought on extreme prohibition through their saloons and political methods. He does not in the least condone the "boot-legal" or other violators of the law. He too stands for law enforcement.

But while preaching obedience to the law, Capt. Stuyton sees a widespread disregard of the law. He feels that the laws of the land are sacred but when they touch personal liberty, each individual will decide for himself what he shall do about it. The result of such reasoning, answers Mr. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League would be anarchy, for if every person in society made his own law the structure of law and order would collapse.

There's a naive rejoinder, however, which comes from Capt. Stuyton and his associates. It is that laws touching vice as contrasted with laws touching crime are hard to enforce because they are related so closely to the individual—speed laws are violated at will and no anarchy results.

Such are the opposing thoughts on the subject of obeying laws relating to personal habits. The Anti-Saloon League thinks all law stands on the same footing and should be uniformly obeyed; the "wets" argue that human nature will always make a dead letter of laws which restrict personal liberty.

Then there's the argument that the fifth amendment relating to negro suffrage isn't obeyed in the South, thus affording a precedent for disobeying the eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution in "wet" states.

The Anti-Saloon League leaders draw a distinction between the fifteenth and eighteenth amendments, declaring that the amendments which were imposed after the Civil War were "force amendments" whereas the eighteenth amendment was ratified by all but two states of the American union. President Harding thinks the day will come when the fifteenth amendment will be enforced through the voluntary action of the Southern states. He believes economic necessity will compel it.

Capt. Stuyton takes an altogether different view. He thinks that if an amendment to the constitution is had, it ought to be taken out and that the attitude of the people toward one amendment hasn't anything to do with their feeling toward another. His organization wants the eighteenth amendment repealed but he acknowledges that the movement must proceed step by step. His first line of attack is this: The eighteenth amendment prohibits the manufacture, sale and transportation of "intoxicating" beverages, hence the Volstead Act violates one-half of one per cent as the alcoholic content above which it is illegal to make or sell a beverage.

Where is the line of demarcation? It is conceded by both sides that one-half of one per cent is safe but Capt. Stuyton points to the war-time prohibition act which legalized 2.75 beer and argues that such a beverage would produce a large tax and would satisfy the clamor of the people for a good beer. Fifty scientists, says

Initiation of a class of thirty candidates marked the Silver Jubilee celebration of River City Aeris, No. 667, of Eagles, held in their hall, Second and Court streets, Thursday night.

Nearly two hundred members were present, including a number of visitors from neighboring cities and the celebration was highly successful.

At the close of the initiatory exercises addresses were made by Mayor William N. Gableman, Judge Stanley McCall, Safety Director S. Straus and Sheriff Harry M. Dunham, and then followed a social session during which the members enjoyed an excellent lunch of roast beef, potatoes, gravy, baked beans, bread and butter and coffee.

Twelve applications for membership were received last night and arrangements were made to hold the next class initiation on March 15.

Following are the candidates initiated last night: Fred Bruce, Chas. Farrow, Everett Kinsey, Charles Bridwell, Jennings Clark, Bert Newman, John Grimes, Ora Carrington, Frank Walter, A. J. Lillick, Samuel McGraw, John Toy, Walter Carmichael, John Slattery, Clyde Grady, Ferdinand C. Gumpert, Albert W. Hewitt, Frank Hasenauer, Albert Jones, Ernest Berry, Harry M. Steed, Albert Steed, John Pyle, Richard James, Edgar Hunt, John Duffy, Robert Spokeman, Beatty C. Miller, Lloyd Jewett, and Charles Roberts.

Capt. Stuyton, have agreed after many experiments that the human stomach can receive two-thirds of an ounce of alcohol before making any man the subject of study for signs of intoxication.

This, of course, is vehemently denied by Mr. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League, who argues that in at least thirty states even before the federal prohibition amendment was adopted, the law specified one-half of one per cent or less as the legal limit of alcoholic content. Twenty-four states today do not even permit physicians to prescribe liquor as medicine. So the states have well defined ideas on the subject which would also have to be changed be-

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PERCENT AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and S. leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 percent air, and 6 percent common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, E. A. Johnson, 608 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 1 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. fore the legislative path of those who preach modification would be made easy.

Out of the 48 states of the union, thirty-three were dry before the federal amendment was adopted. Out of 3,032 counties in the United States, 2,333 were dry and there were many dry villages and townships in the remaining 694 wet counties. Since thirty-three dry states have 66 representatives in the United States Senate which is just two more than the requisite two-thirds, a resolution calling for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment would not at this time have a ghost of a show. The chances of getting two-thirds in the House are similarly slim because the West and South together command enough votes to block action.

So what is the first step that the people opposed to extreme prohibition will be asked to take? Modification of the Volstead law to permit a higher alcoholic content than one-half of one per cent. A majority vote of both houses of Congress is all that is needed to change the Volstead Act. Mr. Wheeler contends that he could make out a good case even against two per cent beer and he believes the Supreme Court wouldn't sustain such a modification of the Volstead Act.

President Harding is one of the men who believes two per cent beer would probably not violate the eighteenth amendment and would furnish an enormous tax revenue but he doesn't think such a proposal could get through Congress at this time and he doubts whether it ever will.

Granting, however, that two per cent beer isn't intoxicating and that it conforms to the eighteenth amendment, how would it be distributed? If handled by drug stores or grocery stores, it would only convert the latter into saloons. Capt. Stuyton thinks delivery can be made direct to the home from the factory and many of the evils of the saloon avoided and he points out too that near-beer saloons and soft drink parlors have become gathering places for saloons.

The prohibitionist fears, of course, that the places which sell 2 per cent beer would become centers for the distribution of whiskey on the side, that the people who are thirsty for the old beverage would not be content with two per cent beer, and that the effort would be constantly upward until the law and the federal amendment would be broken down.

The Supreme Court has said that Congress has the power to interpret the eighteenth amendment and say how much alcohol can be put into a beverage before it can be termed "intoxicating." The various state laws specifying one-half of one per cent accepted by the federal government as precedent and the Supreme Court has said the Volstead law was proper legislation in the sense that a definite percentage was named as the deliberate opinion of this Congress. Another Congress might take the view that 2.75 was not intoxicating and it would be up to the Supreme Court to decide whether Congress had violated the eighteenth amendment.

The prevailing opinion on both sides is that the fight is in Congress as well as in the states and not in the Supreme Court. The belief prevails that the highest court in the land has established a precedent from which it will not depart when it said Congress could determine the alcoholic content.

Capt. Stuyton feels that the last elections showed a decided wet sentiment. Wayne Wheeler can prove by the same statistics that the election was drier than ever.

The "wets" claim that as "boot-legalizing" increases the demand for a light beverage will create a favorable sentiment in Congress to modify the Volstead Act. The Anti-Saloon League and prohibition officials of the government think that as enforcement grows more effective the demand for changes in the Volstead Act will die out especially as it becomes apparent that such a change cannot be put through Congress and even if adopted by Congress cannot override the many state laws on the subject. The federal amendment specified

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With

If you want to keep your child's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with. Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing as this cannot possibly injure the hair. Simply put two or three teaspoonsful of Mulsified in a cup of glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulsified in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. It is your druggist gives you Mulsified. Advertisement.

that the states and federal government were to have "concurrent jurisdiction." The prohibitionists have seen to it that practically all of the states have since passed good enforcement acts along the lines of the Volstead law. Repeal of state laws would have to go hand in hand with the change in the federal statutes. It's a long and difficult process but Capt. Stuyton holds that in democratic states big majorities can be wiped out in four years and he has not given up hope of obtaining first a change in the Volstead law, then in the state laws and finally an amendment to the eighteenth amendment if not its repeal altogether.

To all of this the prohibitionist answer: "Impossible, if not impossible." They have achieved a momentum in the last fifty years which they believe cannot be checked by this generation. And once prohibition survives this generation, they are convinced it will become a permanent reform because the children of today will not know the bliss of yesterday.

SOCIETY

The February meeting of the Woman's City Club was held Thursday afternoon in the Elks parlors, with a goodly number of members and friends present.

In the absence of the president,
Mrs. William H. Schwartz, who is detained at her home on Sixth street by illness, Mrs. Edgar B. Appel, the first Vice-President, had charge of the business meeting. The afternoon was very appropriately opened with the singing of "America, the Beautiful,"
following which Miss Edna M.
Streich read the minutes of the last meeting. Miss M. Estella Welty gave the treasurer's report, and Mrs.
Albert G. Schmid, of the tree committee extended an invitation to the members to join the American Tree Association, which was accepted.

Mrs. Appel announced that the club had postponed their MacDowell celebration until sometime in April as the various musicians were so busy the latter part of January that they did not have time to get to prepare a fitting program to the memory of this beloved composer. A pro-

Protests Against Stiff Swollen Tortured Joints

Rheumatic or Otherwise Says: "When Joint-Ease Gets in—Joint Agony Gets Out"

It was a high-class pharmacist who saw prescription after prescription fail to help hundreds of his customers to get rid of rheumatic swellings and stiff inflamed joints.

And it was this same man who asserted that a remedy could and would be compounded that would make creaky, swollen, tormented joints work with just as much smoothness as they ever did.

Now this prescription, rightly named Joint-Ease, after being tested successfully on many obstinate cases, is offered through progressive pharmacists to the millions of people who suffer from ailing joints that need lubricating up.

Swollen, twingy, inflamed, stiff,
pain-tormented joints are usually caused by rheumatism, but whatever the cause Joint-Ease soaks right in,
through skin and flesh and gets right to and corrects the trouble at its source.

Remember Joint-Ease is for all members of the joints, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, spine or finger, and when you rub it on, you may expect speedy and gratifying results.

gram will be given some time in April under the direction of Prof.
Elmer Ende.

Mrs. E. E. Haquard took charge of a short musical program which included two beautiful vocal numbers by Mrs. R. G. Gilmore who sang,
"Two Souls," by Louis Heiser, and
"Love Sends Gift Roses," by John Openshaw, with the piano accompaniment played by Miss Anna T. Cramer.
A delightful improvisation of "The Rosary" of her own composition was then played by Miss Cramer. Ruth Bertram gave two readings, "George Washington," and "Temptation," which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. Floyd Fuller read an interesting and instructive paper on "Civic Improvement," which was prepared by John Nolen, town and city planner of Cambridge, Mass.
Among other things Mr. Nolen's article said in part:

"The town and city is merely the large house in which we live. It presents the same problem as the home
—proper public provision, for convenience and recreation and efficiency. The maintenance of conditions marked by cleanliness, order and the crowning effect of the two beauties, therefore it is quite natural that the present widespread movement for better conditions in town and city should be largely due to the influence and devotion of women.

City planning or re-planning is simply a recognition of the sanitary economic and aesthetic laws which should govern the original arrangement and consequently the re-arrangement and development of our cities.

One of the first purposes of city planning is the preservation, restoration if need be, of the further development of the individuality of the city. Its history, its physical and social situation, the character of its population, all should be appropriately reflected in the city plan. One of the most serious drawbacks to American life is its uniformity. This criticism becomes more pointed if we recall the older cities and towns of Europe, and contrast them with our own.

A second broad purpose that should control all city planning, is a more tentative regard for the common welfare. Strong, selfish individualism still has its sway in all cities, and many of the evils of which better city planning may have to correct are due to this cause.

The city plan asserts every phase of city making, but remains more definitely to location of streets, and roads, the selection of thoroughfares, for traffic and pleasure drives and a sub-division of the city and the selection for the various purposes of business, residences, recreation, etc.

Street plans in most cities usually presents a common place checkerboard or grid-iron system, unreflected by a diagonal, or else an irregular accidental arrangement, uncontrolled by skill or common sense.
The determination of the location and character of public buildings with an opportunity that every city may use to add to its convenience and beauty.

The various public buildings should be grouped in some orderly organic plan, thus adding materially to the dispatch of business, and making the most instead of the least of the opportunities to secure an important example of what true civic art may be.

The smaller city depends for its impression primarily on what the people do collectively. To make such a grouping of public buildings they should usually be arranged around a public open square. If we are really to advance in city building we must recognize at once that changes in our practice can be brought about only by changes in public opinion. We must find more ways and better ways of forming intellectual public opinion and of giving it effective expression.

Almost anything is possible through co-operative effort of such men and women as are now permanently pulling together towards definite ends in the civic, social and commercial clubs and other organizations of scores of cities, that might be readily named."

Mrs. Fuller supplemented her talk with slides of streets, parks, and public buildings in various cities of the United States and Europe, the majority of them being taken in the New England cities.

In addition to these slides a number of pictures showing the early days of Portsmouth were shown and were quite interesting to the younger as well as the older members of the club.
Among these were "Market Street in 1847"; the old High School on Gallia
Street; the old Church in 1834; Miss Emma Bell's Kindergarten, Fourth and Washington Streets; the Salt
Woolen Mills, Fourth and Chillicothe Streets; the old Drew-Selby Factory,
Third and Gay Streets; the Excelsior Shoe Factory on Front Street; the Davis High School; Company H,
leaving for Cuba in 1898; the old
Sixth Street School Building, Chillicothe Street in 1860 and various other old time scenes.

The next meeting will be held in the Elk parlors, the date to be announced later. The meeting will be in the nature of a "Detention Meeting" with speeches by several local people who are well informed on the subject. Miss Emma Hubert of the Bureau of Community Service will be one of the speakers. She is well informed on this subject, having had several years experience in this line of work. The speakers will endeavor to explain why Portsmouth has the largest number of delinquent children of any city its size in the State of Ohio.

George Wood Anderson, the evangelist, will also give a short talk at this meeting.

Delegates To Methodist Episcopal Church Seek Release Of Business

CLEVELAND, O., February 23.—
(By the Associated Press)—After thrashing out labor, social and moral problems for three days delegates to the sixth annual meeting of the council of cities of the Methodist Episcopal Church were leaving for their homes today. The convention closed last night.

The last important business of the meeting was the adoption yesterday of a resolution requesting amply for offenders of war time laws who are still in federal prisons.

his operator, Mr. G. R. Nupley, and Mr. Henry Lorberg for the use of the local slides.

Intense feeling on the part of five ministers attending the session, it is said, caused the subject to be considered.

At first it was proposed that an insistent demand be made upon the president, and attorney general for the prisoners' release, but finally it was decided to appoint a committee to draft a resolution to be presented to the delegates for action.

"The adoption of resolutions of political character is unusual at the conventions of the council of cities," James M. Versteeg, Jersey City, secretary of the convention said.

"The convention is held primarily as a school of methods in city church organization and religious work," he said. "It seemed to some of us, however, that these prisoners were so undisputably the victims of unfair treatment that the expression of sentiment on the part of the convention was demanded."

Behind the packing houses and the

How live stock reaches the market;

Agreed Never to Write Cheerless Letters; Husband Dies—Wife Does Not Know It

ASHTABULA, O., February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Because of an agreement entered into last October between Dr. H. Milton Brown and his wife when the latter started on a tour around the world—to write each other only cheerful letters—Mrs. Brown is unaware that her husband is dead and buried. News of the agreement was disclosed by friends today.

Dr. Brown was sick for ten days, but he never broke his promise. "I cannot write because it would ruin her trip," he said.

Several days ago a letter was received addressed to him in which Mrs. Brown implores him to "forget that foolish promise" as she is sick with anxiety.

But Dr. Brown never saw the letter. He died on January 25, calling for his wife who is somewhere on the Indian Ocean.

Relatives knowing of the agreement, decided to write the manager of the tour at his New York office, enclosing a letter with the news to Mrs. Brown, which she will not receive until she arrives in New York, probably in a month.

Dr. Brown had been preparing to go to Bermuda when he became ill. He was 56 years old and previous to coming here to practice dentistry, had founded a dental school at Cleveland, which later was merged with Western Reserve University.

Affairs Of Cleveland Firm In Receiver's Hands

CLEVELAND, O., February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The affairs of the Cleveland Discount Company, claimed by its officers several months ago to be the second largest mortgage concern in the United States, today was in the hands of receivers.

The receivers, William L. David and Thomas H. Hoggett, Cleveland attorneys, were appointed late yesterday by Common Pleas Judge Alvin T. Pearson on the application of W. H. Hoppie, Tiffin, Ohio, who until Wednesday, had been chairman of the board of directors since the resignation of Josiah Kirby, February 12. In a joint statement issued by the receivers they declared they would proceed as rapidly as possible to investigate and ascertain the conditions of the securities, properties and accounts of the company.

"Our investigation will be just as thorough as we can make it and feature of the company's activities will be carefully studied," the statement said. "We expected to use every effort to prevent the dissipation of the assets of the company through needless litigation and to protect and conserve the property for the benefit of all concerned."

The number of purchasers of the company's securities was placed by an official of the organization at 30,000.

Auditors have been at work on the books of the company for several weeks. Indications are, it is said, that they will not be ready to report before about April 20.

County Prosecutor E. C. Stanton, who has had several conferences with Mr. Kirby, who up to ten days ago had also been president and general manager, relative to the affairs of the company, said that the appointment of receivers does not "in any way" alter his position.

"Until I have seen the audit of the company I shall have no adequate information as to the situation. As soon as the audit is at hand it will be given careful consideration," Mr. Stanton said.

In his voluntary petition for receivership, Mr. Hoppie said he was acting on behalf of more than 15,000 stockholders scattered throughout the country. He avers that the company is solvent and that the action was taken for the protection of the many stockholders.

The voluntary petition asking the receivership was filed by W. H. Hoppie, Tiffin, Ohio, manufacturer, chairman of the board of directors, who said that he made the application on behalf of more than 15,000 stockholders scattered throughout the country. Mr. Hoppie is said to be the largest stockholder in the company.

Appointed by the receivers came an ultimatum to a situation which has undergone many rapid changes in the past ten days, and follows the resignation yesterday of Fred C. Ende, acting president, director and general manager. Mr. Ende was appointed to these offices on February 12, when Josiah Kirby, founder of the company, resigned upon recommendation of a committee of bankers, whose advice was sought by the directors. Louis J. Eddy who was appointed vice-president at the same time, resigned a few days later.

In resigning yesterday Mr. Ende declared he did so because the "ramifications of the business all over the United States were so enormous that it was simply impossible for me to handle it and conserve the best interests of all parties."

Receivers Make Statement.

The receivers issued a statement today in which they said that every effort will be made to conserve the assets of the company from needless litigation and to protect the property for the benefit of all concerned.

"We are informed by officials of the company that while many of the assets are frozen and that time will be required to liquidate them, yet in their opinion the company is solvent," the statement says. "We expect to use every effort to prevent the dissipation of the assets of the company through needless litigation."

Concern Not Insolvent.

It sets forth that the company is not by any means insolvent; that the action is taken merely for the protection of the many stockholders and that "if the assets are conserved and the affairs properly managed," not only will the company be able to pay its debts in full but that there will be a substantial portion of the capital left for the benefit of the plaintiff and the other stockholders.

The company is without the services of a president and other executives, the petition states; only eleven of the authorized twenty-five directors are qualified and active, and repeated efforts to persuade competent and qualified men to act as officers and directors have failed.

Big Projects Involved.

Among the projects involved in the receivership action through loans are the Sharon Pressed Steel Company, Sharon, Pa., and the Cleveland Discount Building Company, which completed a 21-story office building at a cost of approximately $6,000,000 a year ago.

The state securities department last week revoked the company's license to sell its own stocks and bonds in Ohio.

Attorneys
In Conference

WASHINGTON, February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Probably the most distinguished gathering of the legal profession in the history of the nation assembled here today for the conference called by the committee on the establishment of a permanent organization for the improvement of the law to consider the formation of an American law institute. Primarily the function of the institute, as described would be to remedy defects in the law and its application by its "analytical, critical and constructive" re-statement.

A report by the committee of which Elihu Root is chairman, based on an exhaustive study of the question of improvement of the law and recommending to that end, the formation of the institute, has been prepared for the consideration of the conference. After a general discussion of the question the program called for the taking of formal steps for the organization of the institute.

Asks Damages For Revolt

ST. JOSEPH, MICH., February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—A rebellion against the rule of Benjamin Purnell of the House of David, the Penton Harbor religious colony; the looting of the Shiloh building, headquarters of the sect, after a "gas attack" seizure of $300,000, supposed to be in the building and the setting up of a new colony, to be known as the "League of Nations" and over which a woman was to rule as "queen," were being planned in 1920, when John W. Haussel, of Nashville, Tenn., was expelled from the sect, according to the bill of particulars in a suit filed in circuit court here by Purnell.

The head of the colony seeks to recover $200,000 damages from Haussel and eight other former members of the cult, who are alleged to have been parties to the reputed conspiracy to wreck the organization.

"Threats, force and violence," were to be used in disrupting the colony, the bill declares, in detailing the alleged plot.

May Endorse

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 23.—Possibility that Henry Ford might be endorsed as the party's presidential candidate in 1924, overshadowed all other business before Michigan Democrats, when they met in state convention here today to adopt a platform and nominate candidates for minor state offices to be filled at the spring election.

Some of the party leaders frankly expressed the fear the proposed Ford endorsement might cause a split and turn the convention from a unification over the party's success last November, into a divided camp.

Efforts were made before the convention convened to iron out the differences, leaders holding closed sessions for the purpose of deciding upon a course that would assure harmony. Opponents of the proposal felt, it was said, that presidential endorsement should be left to the primary.

The Ford presidential boom came up at the last state democratic convention and for a time it appeared

My Cheeks Were Pale and Sallow, My Neck 'Scrawny, My Lips Colorless: Today I am As Popular As Any of the Other Girls Because I Have Learned the Secret of Radiant Health and Beauty and Have a Well-Rounded Face and Figure.

Try making this slight change in your diet for two weeks and watch for the astonishing results it will often give.

For years I was so unattractive that I almost cried when I looked at myself in the mirror. Oh, how I envied other girls, whose dance cards were always filled and who were always popular and sought after by boys. Who would not look at me twice. Just two weeks ago I read an article in the paper which told of a slight change in the daily diet which often changed women who had been thin, pale and unattractive, in some cases, in a few years, so that they got back that magnetic charm of radiant health. This article stated that the most important element in building a strong, beautiful body, full of grace and magnetism with sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks was a peculiar form of iron found in the husks of grain and the seeds and skins of certain fruits and vegetables. But modern methods of cooking throw these important things away so that probably 75 per cent of 20 back 10 per cent in their blood. I tried mixing a little of this new form of iron with my meals for two weeks. I feel and look years younger, with natural color in my lips and cheeks.

The above is a typical hypothetical case. It would seem that every woman whose attractiveness is impaired by lack of that magnetic charm that comes only with radiant health, would try adding a little of this new form of iron to her daily food. It is comparatively inexpensive and may be obtained from your druggist under the name of Nuxated Iron, which should be mixed with your food as directed on each package. Amazing results are often secured in only two weeks time. For sale by all druggists including L. H. Stewart, Portland, Alaska, and Fisher & Stretch, Advertisement.

Runaway Youth Is Being Held Here

Clyde Moler, 13 years old, claiming Columbus as his home, was the name given by a youth taken into custody when found by the police about six o'clock Thursday evening, wandering about Chillicothe street. The lad, on being questioned, told the officers a wild story of being brought to this city by a "Mexican outlaw" on a freight train. Little credence was given his story and the boy was sent to the Juvenile ward in the county jail, where he will be held pending word from the Capital City. The youth is believed to have run away from home.

"Small cheer and great welcome"

Washington's birthday proved to hold much pleasure for the members of the Home League as they gathered at the home of Mrs. G. T. Elliott, 1827 Summit street for their annual luncheon, or "winer picnic."

The falling of snow flakes outside added to the cheer and coziness of the spacious rooms, which were profusely decorated in the national colors, every available space containing American flags of various sizes.

Five tables were arranged and were beautifully appointed. Red, white and blue ribbons against the snowy linen made a striking background for other decorations, which included small cherry trees for centerpieces, tall red candles in silver holders bearing attractive shades of ground for other decorations, which hatched and cherries, and also silk American flags added to the central decorations. Tiny red birds bearing beautiful place-cards marked the place of each guest. Small red baskets adorned with hatched and containing red, white and blue candies, would as stars, were given as favors.

Mrs. Elliott presided as hostess in the dining room and her assistant hostesses, Mesdames Charles Zull, Fred Baker, Albert Reiser and C. W. Wendelken, attired in gorgeous colonial costumes, in pink and blue, assisted in serving the delicious three course luncheon to the thirty-three guests present. As the last course was being served the shades were drawn and the many red tapers lighted, making a scene long to be remembered by those fortunate enough to be present.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the regular meeting of the club was held in the parlors. During the business hour Mrs. E. H. Blazer, Mrs. C. L. Ferguson and Mrs. George Paff were elected to active membership in the club. The meeting opened with the singing of America. This was followed by the scripture reading by Mrs. Anna Knauss. Roll call was responded to by American Patriots. Miss Mary Smith read an interesting paper entitled, "Lincoln the Humanitarian." Mrs. E. H. Dailley, who has a beautiful voice, rendered two vocal solos, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. M. Stockham. Mrs. Howard Sellards read an excellent paper, "Washington, the Statesman." Mrs. Albert Reiser delighted the club with two clever readings. The meeting closed with the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" by the club.

Those present included Mesdames Fred Baker, Freeman Chase, E. H. Dailley, Jos. Dunn, G. T. Elliott, J. D. Jordan, F. V. Knauss, L. G. Lecker, J. T. McCormick, Florence Pick, Edgar Poffenberger, Albert Reiser, Ed. T. Reed, John Rottinghaus, Thomas Russell, Howard Sellards, Isabelle Thomas, Cornelia Treulhart, C. W. Wendelken, Chas. Zull, W. A. Eichelberger, Winnifred Bennett, H. G. Cranston, G. Monroe Howerton, Jas. M. Williams, Charles Hauck, Anna Knauss, Thomas Nichols, John M. Stockham, Misses Mary Smith and Mary Holt.

Miss Gertrude Elliot and Mrs. Marshall, who is a guest in the Elliot home, were welcome guests.

Mrs. Harry E. Taylor of Second street received a radio message this morning from Mr. Taylor, who with Mr. Vallee Harold and Mr. George A. Goodman, is enjoying an ocean voyage on the steamer "Empress of Britain," enroute to South America, the British Isles and Cuba. The message stated that they were well and thoroughly enjoying their trip.

Miss Jennie Kimble, who is attending college at Wooster, Ohio, is spending the week-end with her parents, Attorney and Mrs. B. F. Kimble of 1929 Hutchins street.

The Misses Dorothy and Virginia Goetz delightfully entertained the members of the Yvonne Club last evening at their home on Seventh street. The hours were pleasantly whiled away in sewing, dancing and social chat and at a late hour a delicious refreshment course was served. The decorations were the birthday and the favors were tiny handkerchiefs. The members present included Ruth Millard, Jane and Christine Bellows, Mary Pfeiffer, Bernice Ball, Kathryn Elliott and the two hostesses.

Guests for the evening were Virginia Geisler and Gabriel Case.

The Misses Mary and Emma Reagan, who are both ill at their home, Third and Sixth streets, were reported as slightly improved today. They have had a new telephone installed in their home, their number being 2323-N.

The ladies of the Valley Chapter will give a bake sale tomorrow at the Unitarian Church on Gallia and Gay streets. All kinds of good things will be for sale at reasonable prices.

COLORED REVIVAL OPENS; MUCH ENTHUSIASM SHOWN

The Union revival at Allen A. M. church started off Thursday with a great deal of enthusiasm. A large crowd was in attendance and those present almost to a person signified a willingness to do their part as soldiers of Jesus in the big battle.

Evangelist Harper of Youngstown, had telegraphed that he could not reach here for the first night. Dr. E. J. Reed, pastor of Pleasant Green Baptist church, preached a soul-stirring sermon from the subject, "The Upright: What God is to Them and Does for Them" based upon Psalms 84:11.

The chorus had more than forty present and sang delightfully and helpfully.

Every one after a hearty handshake and enthusiastic testimony service left saying that a real revival was on. A large number gave the names of friends and relatives whom they wish saved in the meetings and asked prayers of the same.

Now for a band of intercessors that Jacob-like will say "We will not let thee go except thou bless us" to continue in prayer for the spiritual outpouring. To your knees, O Christians, for the two fundamental elements in revival is preaching of the truth and effectual prayer. Neither present and song delightfully and helpfully.

Harry Denton, and T. C. Lloyd singing "The Nearer The Sweeter."

At the morning services at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday, Clen De Bruin is to sing "I Thank Thee Lord," by Porter. In addition, Rev. Hugh I. Evans, pastor of the church, is to have a strong sermon—"Individuality In Religious Expression." At the evening service Rev. Evans will take for his theme, "A Tomb In Egypt"—a sermon on "Immortality." The evening music will be featured by a duet composed by Harry Denton, and T. C. Lloyd singing "The Nearer The Sweeter."

Sunday School Lesson

REV. LEIGH O. WRIGHT, BUENA VISTA.
THE PARABLE OF THE POUNDS

Life for us all means stewardship, and more and more we see that there is a delicate and automatic system of rewards and punishment under the sanction of the One Supreme Being. Christ does not demand success, but unflinching faithfulness in building the kingdom, and if there is one thing above others which the parable of the pounds teaches it is our common equality in Christ's kingdom as we begin.

Many agree that this parable is a varied repetition of the parable of talents found in Matthew's gospel. Its change is occasioned by a bit of local history which gives a background to the parable. Jericho had been passed, where there was a magnificent palace, the home of Archelaus, son of Herod the Great, famed for his cruelty. In those days Herodian princes on coming to office went to Rome for their official inauguration as we would say. There was such a protest against Archelaus that an embassy followed him protesting the appointment. (v. 14) and said, "We will not have this man to reign over us." We can notice these further differences aside from local history. Smaller amounts are given these servants than in the parable of the talents, for they received but one sixtieth of a talent. In this ten men receive equal amounts in place of three men receiving unequal but greater sums.

We do not mean to confine this comment to comparing differences when great principles of conduct are the central teaching. The kingdom of God is coming and Christ is its appointed King. His kingdom was appointed unto Him by His Father, but the power and the fulness of His coming depend in a very real way upon us. His kingdom is extended in human discipleship and becomes actual in our fidelity and obedience. As Jesus spoke He did it in the light of His expected return and in substance this, "I am going from you and you are in the end to be judged by your faithfulness to this trust. Everything that you do must be governed by the idea of accountability, and I will someday return and ask you to give an account of your stewardship."

When we look at the disciples we recognize that ours is a similar position. Each person is equal in responsibility, each is equal in honor, as in our land of America we are expected to express equal loyalty and receive equal protection as citizens. On the other hand we admit a difference in station so far as native ability and the development of our powers is concerned. The servants of the nobleman received the same trust, they also received the same task, "occupy till I come." This was precisely what the disciples were to do. Humbly speaking, the entire responsibility of the enterprise of the kingdom was soon to rest upon them: they were to record and proclaim their Master's words, carry on His work, fulfill His purposes, and establish among men His ideals; and if they failed, there would be no one else to do it. They were to become His hands, His voice, His heart. And that has been true ever since. We also are to occupy till He comes, and if anything can give dignity or meaning to life, it is just this sense of high responsibility. If we are really keeping Christ's peace and doing His work in the world it will give even the commonest task a splendid greatness.

In the parable the servants fulfill their trust with varying success. The most capable multiply over and over again what they had; their pound becomes ten pounds. Those less capable, but still of considerable force, multiply their trust by five, and they do this because they tried. As we see the unprofitable servant is condemned, not because he made so little profit, but because he did nothing at all. We make our arms strong by using them; we strengthen our minds by thinking and studying; we build up our characters through faithful service. It is always and everywhere a law of God that increase and use go hand in hand. This is the secret of creation of every kind of wealth whether of body, mind or soul. It is true also of the kingdom of God.

There enters into this an element of daring which is necessary, for there is a conservatism that defeats itself. Only those who dare greatly, reap greatly. Henry Churchill Kline says, "Our sole business is to achieve the most that is possible in the circumstance. There is therefore, always, whether for men or for nations, an element of risk, of venture in all achievement." "Since then, we cannot know which is to prove the best opportunity within reach, the one practical course is that there shall be no sparing of a job at any point, no passing over at any opportunity. Fidelity in that which is least is the only preparation for the unknown future. Dare the risks of your own imperfection, dare all."

The first man, gaining ten other talents is both rewarded and praised, the second receives no praise. He is not said to have done well, nor is he called good. He evidently had not done all that was possible for him to do; he was lacking in devotion, perseverance, steadfastness. His whole heart had not been in the business on hand, he had not been a hero in the struggle.

The first becomes the ruler over ten cities, the second a ruler over five cities, but from the last is taken even that which he hath and given to the one who held the most. The remark, "Lord, he hath ten pounds," was a very natural expression of surprise. How often we feel the same, but it is idle to complain of the laws of the universe. We might better study to accommodate ourselves to what we know exists and live with these laws rather than against them.

Let us be careful that we do not try to read this parable out of its true temporal meaning and give it a reference to eternity, and rather study to be faithful in that which is least and then we also may have the opportunity of showing greater fidelity. The time of trading is a time of preparation for the higher occupation of ruling, when they who have been with Christ in His temptations shall receive kingdoms and sit on thrones.

repairs, spring a leak in her hull as a result of crowding through the ice about eleven o'clock Thursday night. The leak was discovered when the vessel was in mid-stream returning to the Ohio shore and the craft was quickly brought to the landing at the foot of Market street, by Pilot John M. Meadows.

As the boat docked at the ferry landing the troubles of the crew were further augmented when two fine plugs in the boilers blew out which caused the team to become so low that the pumps out of commission and as the hold was rapidly filling with water an appeal for aid was sent to Fire Chief Robert L. Leonard. The Gallia street pumper was sent to the rescue and forty-five minutes later the hold was free of water. Temporary repairs were made and little damaged resulted from the leak which was caused by caulking from the seams being torn out by the ice.

Repairs to the Str. Chesapeake are about completed, it is said, and the craft is expected to be returned here within the next few days and put back in service between this city and South Portsmouth.

Invite Evangelistic Par ty To Christian Church

Hardly had the Evangelistic party now holding services in the Universal Garage on Gallia street, landed in Portsmouth until a special committee from First Christian Bible school had urgently invited them to be on the program at the First Christian Bible school Sunday morning. "We certainly do appreciate the invitation," said Dr. Anderson, "and if we can't all get there, I am sure some of the party will be with you."

The coming Sunday is another of the big Bible school's "unusual" days that have been planned, one for each month, and Supt. C. M. Howard has stepped down and out and the Efficiency Committee head by A. P. Wright as chairman, and supported by E. P. Ramer, superintendent of the Western Union offices, and R. C. Hollbrook, who is chairman of the Bible school committee of the New Crusade, are in full command.

This assures a program of quality, and soap, and the committee being deeply interested in the "unusual" things would be to have the entire evangelistic party, if possible, or at least a part of it come to the school and they have been promised this for Sunday morning.

Other "unusual features" are being thought out and will be carried out and the committee extends an "unusually" cordial invitation to all who are not in Bible school to come Sunday for a refreshing visit with the First Christian folks.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by 100 million! You can increase your red blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unbearable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-plants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1891! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes: "My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and it well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red blood-cells, it routes rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, work, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, N. H.

Dear Dolly Wise—As you answer so many questions I would like to know about the following: I read in a newspaper an article of a public speech by Dr. Andrew White, who was an American ambassador to Germany, which read as follows: "I can never forget what Germany did for America during the civil war. They were the European people who helped to keep the Union together, while France and England did all in their power to split the Union, just as Portugal is trying to do to Germany today. Carl Schurz and General Frank Sigel, with 188,000 German born Americans, risked their lives to save the doubtful state of Missouri. Abraham Lincoln, who was a personal friend of Carl Schurz, admitted the things Germany had done for the Union. If this is true, I don't think America is more grateful to Germany now than she is in trouble." Please give me your opinion.

A YOUNG AMERICAN
I am not in favor of liquidating the German war debt, and then let the German government use the money to prepare for another war. I am in favor of lopping off enough to feed the women and children, and the old men of that country who are starving to death. I have first hand information from a person who has spent the past two years with the American Army of Occupation on the Rhine, that the people of Germany are literally starving to death. The women and children of that country were not responsible for the war and I don't think they should be permitted to starve to death when a few dollars would save their lives.

Dear Dolly—This is the first time I'm writing. I am a young girl and what do you think of a fellow who just thinks he can come when he wants to. I am getting tired of this way of doing. He tells me he is coming down and then never comes but when he does come he has some kind of excuse. When he is here he is just as nice as he can be. He says he does not go with anybody. A friend of his says that he does not and when his friend is here and goes away he is always talking about me. Do you think he cares for me? JACKSON GIRL
He probably likes you as well, or better than he does any other girl, but judging from his actions, he is not interested in girls. Henry not being in a position to marry you, and does not want to take up your time, or lead you to believe that he has any serious intentions. If you are perfectly satisfied with the excuses he offers, for not showing up, I think it would be all right to let things drift along as they have been for the time being. In the meantime, you might have other friends call on you occasionally to relieve the monotony of your quiet village life.

Dear Miss Wise—What is the average wage per week for stenographers in this city? Also for general office work. How much should a person who has graduated from business college and had two years' experience in general office work demand? Dolly, I am a recent resident of the city; who would you suggest that I apply to for employment?

A BUSINESS WOMAN
Your salary would depend entirely upon your ability to make good, and your luck at getting a worth while position. You might be lucky enough to step into something good, and again, you might have to start at the bottom of the ladder and climb up, despite the fact that you have had two years' experience. You can watch the want ads in the paper, and also file your application with a number of the larger firms in the city. They may not have any vacancies at the present time, but you can never tell when some of the girls will quit, get sick, get another position, or get married.

Dear Dolly—Last Friday I went to a show and while there met a girl and I gave her my name and address, and since then I have received a letter from her, but she did not give any address. Her name starts with it. Can you tell me who she is or give me her address so I can write to her, as she asked things I don't want to answer. TIMES READER
She probably does not want you to have her address, or she would have put it in the letter. I suppose she also signed a fictitious name. Nice girls are not in the habit of picking up with strange men and giving them their name and address. How did you happen to meet her? Did she throw a paper wad at you?

Dear Dolly—I would like to ask why such rules and regulations, or laws of whatever you want to call them, like a curfew was ever put on the statute books. Was it to fill up space or just put there for a joke? Out here in New Boston we are supposed to have one, and gangs of boys are allowed to loaf around and yell on the main streets until ten thirty and eleven o'clock. If they come under the curfew, why aren't they made to go home at a reasonable hour or arrested? There is also a lot of rifle shooting out here. Boys shoot into people's back yards or anywhere they take a notion but there is nothing said to them. Who can I report these matters to in order to get action?

INDIGNANT VOTER
Report them to Mayor Newberry.

Dear Dolly—I am a girl of 18 years, and am going with a fellow 21 years old. He says he loves me very much and wants me to marry him as soon as I am old enough. His home is three hundred miles from me and yet he comes to see me as often as possible. Do you think he loves me? I am about five feet four inches tall, have dark brown hair, dark blue eyes, fair complexion and rosy cheeks. Do you think I am pretty? POLLY ANNA
Sure he loves you, and if you are as pretty as your description sounds, you must look like a peach or a pipkin. However, don't be in a hurry to marry him, even if he has popped the question. Wait until you are twenty or twenty-one years of age or older.

Thirty-five girls and boys of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Presbyterian Church, were entertained with a George Washington party Thursday afternoon in the social room at the church. A hatter hunt was the first contest of the merry afternoon, and various other games were played before the serving of refreshments. The guests were seated at one large table, attractive with its adornments of red hatters, cherries and red candles. A huge cake with the name George Washington spelled in cherries, was used in the center of the table, while bunches of candied cherries for the boys and bunches of cherries for the girls marked the places. The hostesses of the afternoon were Misses Minnie Puntney, superintendent of the society; Marjorie Thirkettle, Roberta Hennessy and Fern Galford. The girls who served were charming in Martha Washington costumes.

Among those who came to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Salina Kent, who passed away at her home in Cincinnati Monday evening, were her son, Lou Kent of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. John Eckhart, Miss Ethel Eckhart and J. V. Eckhart of Cincinnati; Mrs. Arthur Carey of Bluefield, W. Va.; and Mrs. William Shump of South Charleston, Ohio, who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reeg of Grandview Avenue. Mrs. Kent's funeral was held at Harrisonville Cemetery Wednesday.

Miss Florence Nunemaker of Timmonds Avenue is going to Williamson, W. Va., today to visit her sister, Miss Clara Nunemaker and to attend a Washington Birthday dance. On Saturday Miss Nunemaker will go to Bluefield where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Rutledge for a week.

Mrs. R. A. Jackson and Miss Letitia Diven, of 1234 Third street, who have been ill with the flu for the past week, are improving.

Mrs. Charles Crider has returned from Ironton, where she visited her father, Mr. Howard Wray, and also with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher.

Miss Alice Wilson went to Ironton Thursday to visit Miss Laura Hall over the week-end.

Miss Edith Forbes, a teacher in the Lucasville schools, is spending the week-end in Ripley, Ohio, the guest of Miss Elsie Houk.

Charles Yeagle is very ill with an attack of the grip at the home of his sister, Mrs. Taylor Flannigan, of 3062 Walnut street.

Arthur Yeagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yeagle, of 1732 Seventeenth street, is recovering from an attack of the flu.

Mrs. Richard Forest and daughter, Mrs. Wylie Spalden are recovering from an attack of the flu at their home, 419 Offshore street.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

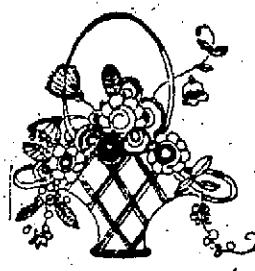

Every boy will understand why Jack Daw went tearing down the street when he saw a balloon man standing on a corner some blocks away. It was simply because Jack, like all young folks, was always very interested in balloons. And hence, away he ran with Flip at his heels.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE Twins started toward Jack Straw's place in Mix-Up Land. They could see it plainly on the other side of a wide river. It was made of dominoes all over, like bricks, and the dominoes were black, with round, white spots on them. The chimney was made of dominoes and the doors and steps and walks and fences were dominoes, so the balcony was as spotty as a calico cow, or a tiger-lily, or a speckled hen, or a bad apple.

"Well, wish ourselves over the river in our Magic Shoes," said Naeve. "We had better start at once."

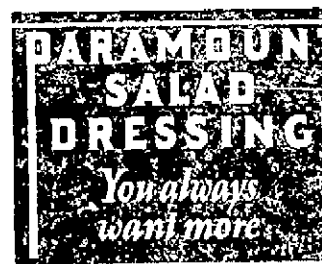

"All right," said Nick, picking up the basket of eggs the Cut-Out Lady had given him.

So they said:

DIAMONDS AND JADE

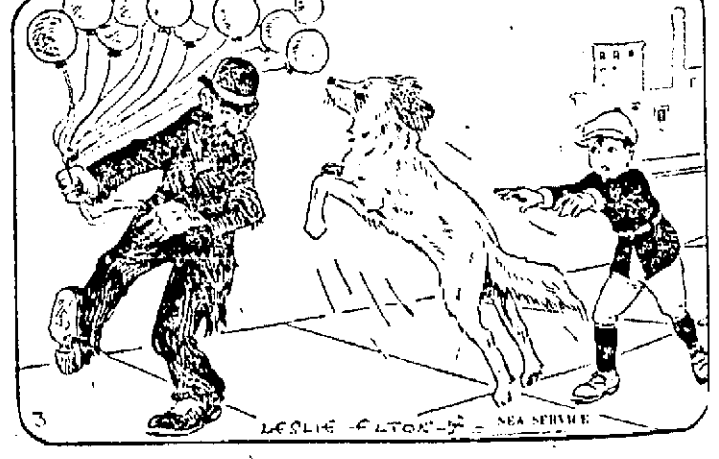

The combination of jade and diamonds is a pleasing one when it occurs in a pair of earrings. The carved jade drop suspends from a double chain of tiny diamonds.

Jack thought for a moment and then decided on a blue one. He handed the man his money and was just about to take the balloon, when something terrible happened. Jack must have forgotten about his pet dog. Flip, who was very startled when the dog jumped at the balloon. (Continued)

"Experience" Makes Big Hit At Sun

"Experience" the George V. Hobart symbolic play was staged for the first time in Portsmouth yesterday by the Jack Ball Stock Co., and proved one of the best, if not the best attraction this popular company has given theatergoers of this city. Advance notices of the tremendous stage production needed to depict the ten big scenes were fulfilled to the letter and last night's audience roundly applauded the different scenes and work of the players. It is the biggest thing in a play that has been produced here in some time. "Experience" should prove a big drawing card for the balance of this week. Seats for "The Storm" the forthcoming production to be seen at the Sun all next week, are selling now at the box office and manager Hawkins of the Ball Players, who is an experienced electrician himself, will superintend the staging effects, with a score of assistants. He promises the Sun patrons a regular thrilling forest fire staged before your very eyes.

A season's pass to the Sun will be given to the person, attending the Monday night performance, sending in the best review of "The Storm" and the electrical effects used in the production.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our dearly beloved mother and grandmother, Elizabeth Morgan (nee Jarvis) who departed from this life Feb. 23, 1923. The stars dimly shining Upon one lonely grave, Where sleepeth without waking One we loved but could not save. Dearest mother, it's so lonely Since you passed away. It seems it has been forever, Although it's just one year today. It's sad, but true, we wonder why, The best are always first to die. Sadly missed by her youngest daughter, Mrs. Lydia Newman and grand children, Dorothy and Mildred. —advertisement—

WILL PRODUCE THREE PLAYS

At the meeting last night of the "Little Theater of Portsmouth," held in the high school, three plays were selected for in the near future. Casts have been selected for preliminary tryouts, and rehearsals will start immediately.

The first play to be selected was "The Maker of Dreams," a fantasy which has been produced all over the United States and artistically, as well as from the dramatic viewpoint, is one of the most enjoyable of entertainments.

The next play to be selected was "The Florist Shop," originally produced by Prof. Baker at Harvard and which has been produced professionally in several large cities. Last but certainly not least is one of the best farces ever written, with a laugh in every line, "The Straw Man."

Mrs. Walter N. Gableman was appointed by the director to take charge of "The Maker of Dreams." The dancing will be in charge of Miss Florence Young. "The Florist Shop" will be directed by Mrs. H. H. Eccles. No director has yet been appointed for "A Straw Man."

It was decided, in addition to these community performances, to have excerpts from various plays now appearing on Broadway given before special meetings of the club. In this way members of "The Little Theater of Portsmouth" will have the opportunity of hearing some of the plays attracting national attention interpreted by capable readers, all members of the movement.

Bert Leach was elected secretary of the organization. All applications for membership should be made to Mrs. Glenn Edwards.

IN REMEMBRANCE

In loving remembrance of my dear mother who passed away Feb. 23, 1922.

I miss you in the morning, dear, When all the world is new, I know the day can bring no cheer Because it brings not you. I miss your tender loving smile, Which brought me gladness all the while.

The world has many joys, 'tis true, But there was only one of you. Not dead to us who loved you Not lost but gone before, And in our hearts and memory You will live forever more. 'Tis sad to know that you are gone, When all around we see, The good deeds that you did in life, So little done for thee. So rest in peace, dear mother, For your life's work is done, One cherished hope is to meet again When the final summons come. Sadly missed by her loving daughter, Mrs. Pearl Butler, Cincinnati, O. —advertisement—

Valuation Gains Shown
COLUMBUS, O., February 23.—In the last 12 years there has been an increase of 446 per cent of tax valuations on properties of Ohio public utility companies, says a statement today for the Ohio committee on Public Utility Information. This is disclosed, said the statement, in figures just compiled at the State Tax Commission. Twenty-four Years Ago

A suit was filed in common pleas court to contest the will of John D. Feint, deceased.

John Feint, 21, stove mender, was granted a license to wed Miss Emma Kittle, shoe worker, Rev. A. W. Mallick, of the German Evangelical Church, officiated at the marriage.

Eugene V. Debs, eloquent champion of the cause of labor, delivered a lecture before a large crowd at the opera house. His subject was "Social Problems."

Andrew Faivre, better known as "Sin-Shu," a tailor by occupation, and former resident of Portsmouth, was in a serious condition at his home in Sioux City, Iowa. He became lost in a snow storm and his fingers and toes were frozen.

Miss Helen Purdum celebrated her eight birthday anniversary by entertaining a number of her little friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Purdum, on East Eighth street.

How He Cured His Rupture

Old Sea Captain Cured His Own Rupture After Doctors Said "Operate or Die."

His Remedy and Book Sent Free

Captain Collings called this remedy for many years, then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and trust after trust. No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abortive operation or die. He did neither! He cured himself.

Captain Collings made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man. Anyone can use the same method; it's simple, easy, safe and inexpensive. Every ruptured person in the world should have the Captain Collings book, telling all about how he cured himself and how anyone may follow the same treatment in their own home without any trouble. The book and medicine are $2.00. They will be sent to you at any rupture sufferer who will fill out the below coupon. But send it right away—now—before you put down this paper.

MAGNESIA FINE FOR ACID STOMACH

Quickly Neutralizes Acidity. Stops Fermentation, Sweetens the Stomach

Nine people in ten, when food upsets the stomach, causing distress, think they have indigestion. In reality they are suffering from "acid stomach." An excess of acid in the stomach causes gas, heartburn, bloating and nervousness.

To have a strong healthy stomach capable of easily and normally digesting three hearty meals a day you simply must keep these stomach acids neutralized and in the stomach contented. No artificial digestants are necessary. Just get a few ounces of Eminent Magnesia from any good drug store and take a teaspoonful of the powder or two tablets in a half glass of water right after eating or whenever the "acid" pain is felt. The result is amazing and you will be delighted with the almost instant relief it brings. This famous stomach sweetener combines Magnesia and Bismuth in desirable proportions and is not only highly effective but perfectly harmless. Its regular use keeps the stomach sweet, strong and healthy all the time.

Eminent Magnesia is well known to druggists everywhere and is used abundantly by more than a half million people who now eat as they please, in season with no more fear of indigestion.—Advertisement—

Market News

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—Opening prices in today's stock market were irregular but the main tendency was downward. Ralizing of the local federal reserve bank's rediscount rate resulted in some selling of the popular industrial shares, Baldwin, Columbia Petroleum and Stewart Warner each opening a half point lower. Famous Players dropped a point. Higher gasoline prices induced buying of some oil shares, producers and refiners being among the first to rise to higher ground. Selling pressure was most effective in shares of coal carrying roads, tobacco and independent steels, Gulf States Steel dropped 4 1/2 points in reflection of the speculative disappointment over the dividend when Stomberg Carburator dropped 3 points on profit taking. Losses of 1 to 2 points were recorded by Corn Products, Jones Brothers Tea, United Retail Stores, Vanadium Steel, General Asphalt, Famous Players, U. S. Alcohol, and American Smelting. Louisville and Nashville climbed 2 points to 152 a new high record and Illinois Central improved fractionally but Delaware and Hudson, Norfolk and Western, Reading and Chicago, Northwestern were heavy. Among the few strong spots, were American Cotton Oil preferred, International Agricultural Chemical and May Department Stores. Foreign exchanges were steady. While the raising of the rediscount rate by the federal reserve bank was regarded in some quarters as a warning to the speculative fraternity several expert market observers nevertheless construed it as a bull factor. Prices again tended upward with Baldwin and Studebaker rallying a point or more from their lower prices. A few issues displayed conspicuous strength, notably American Locomotive, General Electric and American Woolen the last named rising 1 1/2 points to 105 1/2, a new high record for the year. Call money opened at 5 1/2 per cent. Early selling in today's stock market, reflecting speculative apprehension over the advance in the local federal reserve rediscount rate, was checked in part by announcement of further increases in the prices of copper, sugar and oil products. Buying was restrained however, by higher call money rates. Sales approximated 1,150,000 shares. The closing was irregular.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Feb. 23—Wheat lacked support today during the early dealings and underwent a sharp drop in values. With eastern selling in evidence again, May delivery fell to 117 1/2 and for the first time in a long while buying at 1.19 failed to develop. Subacks in prices at Liverpool and Winnipeg had a depressing effect here and so too in some degree did Washington reports of delay to proposed farm credits legislation. The opening which varied from 7 1/2 to 1 1/2 lower with May 113 1/2 and July 114 1/2 to 1 1/4 was followed by material further losses. Corn and oats sympathized with weakness of wheat. After opened 3 to 1 lower, May 74 1/2 to 75, the corn market continued to sag. The close was unsettled at 1 1/2 to 2 1/4 net decline with May 117 1/2 to 1 1/4 and July 114 1/2 to 1 1/4.

Valentino Loses Job

CHICAGO, February 23—(By the United Press)—Rodolph Valentino "shook of the movies," lost his job here today despite the adoration of flocks of "Shebas." Valentino has been packing them in at the Triunfo with a dancing act for the past week. Hundreds of flappers were turned away and Valentino appeared before Andrew Karris, manager, and demanded that his salary be doubled. "They are crazy about me," Valentino said. "The girls are coming from all over the city to see me. Somebody has got to pay for it." Karris thought differently. "He filled the place with flappers," he said. "I gave him all the proceeds. When he asked for more, we called it quits." The next public appearance of Valentino is now scheduled as his second marriage to Winifred Hudnut, his dancing partner here, on March 5.

J. Adam Burkel Passes Away At Saranac Lake After Long Illness; Body To Arrive Saturday

J. Adam Burkel has passed on, the final summons coming late Thursday night at Saranac Lake, N. Y., where he went six months ago in quest of health. The end came with his devoted sisters, the Misses Edna and Kate Burkel of Fourth street and brother, William, of Cincinnati, and Rev. G. M. Howerton, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church at his bedside. Mr. Burkel was conscious almost up to the time of his death and recognized those at his bedside. He had been ill with a pulmonary affection, but spinal meningitis, which he developed Tuesday was given as the immediate cause of death. The body is expected to arrive here on the noon N. & W. train Saturday and will be conveyed to the family residence, 1132 Fourth street. With the arrival of out of town relatives the funeral arrangements will be made. Mr. Burkel was a member of Calvary Commandery, No. 33 Knights Templar and they will have charge of the services at the grave. Mr. Burkel, who was 47 years of age was the son of the late Adam and Christina Burkel, pioneer residents of Portsmouth, and is survived by the following brothers and sisters: John and Phillip of this city, Valentine, who is located in Nebraska, William of Cincinnati, Miss Christina Burkel of Lincoln, Nebraska, and the Misses Edna and Kate at home. In 1889 Mr. Burkel entered the employ of the Selby Shoe company, being assigned to the pattern department. Close application to his work soon made his presence felt there. Step by step he advanced until at the time of his death, he was in charge of the pattern and the upper stitching departments in the Selby plant. He had been a director in the company for several years, and was regarded as one of its most efficient executives. He was on the job early and late and was regarded as one of the best patternmakers in the country. He loved his work and imparted a wholehearted enthusiasm to it that served as an inspiration to his subordinates. He was thorough and systematic in everything he did and had the faculty of getting maximum services in his department. His rise in the big Selby factory was a shining example of what close application, energy and progressive ideas will do. He started in at $3 a week and rose to one of the most important positions in the entire plant. "We have lost one of the very best men and will feel his death keenly," a member of the Selby Shoe company said Friday. Mr. Burkel was a life long member of the Central Presbyterian church, where his death will be felt almost as much as in his own home. He was one of the most loyal members of the church and always evinced a wholesome interest in its advancement. He possessed a deep, rich bass voice and contributed vocal numbers whenever called upon. He was loved by all the members of the congregation and a pool of gloom spread over them when it was learned that Mr. Burkel had passed away. He made a courageous fight to regain his health while at the Mt. Vernon Sanitarium and later at Saranac Lake, but it was not to be and when in the prime of life he answered the call of his Master. His devotion to his sisters and friends will linger long in the memories of those who knew this sterling young man and loved him most. Mr. Burkel was a charter member of the Kiwanis Club and members will attend the last rites.

Funeral Services for Mr. Burkel will be held at the home 1023 Robinson avenue at ten o'clock Thursday morning. A sweet and beautiful life was cut short in the passing of this girl. She was held in highest esteem, which is shown by the many sincere expressions of regret and by the many beautiful floral offerings which were received. This loving daughter and sister died in the bloom of girlhood, while the shadows were falling in the West. She fell into the dreamless sleep, but kisses bound the eyelids still. While in love with life and rapture with the world she passed to silent and pathetic dust. A FRIEND.

Delay In Finishing The New Greene Line Boat

Capt. W. D. Kimble, local wharfmaster, has been advised there will be a delay of two or three weeks in putting the new Greene Line Str. Tom Greene into commission on the Ohio river because of the lack of material necessary to finish the cabin. The Tom Greene is the latest word in river steamboat construction and designed to be the fastest vessel on the river. It was originally planned to put the new boat in commission early in March but the indications are at present that it will be the latter part of the month before the finishing touches are completed and the vessel sent out on her maiden trip. Built on the Upper Ohio river at a cost of approximately $125,000 the vessel was towed to Cincinnati early last January for the installation of machinery and the finishing touches. The boat has a steel-hull, steel decks and steel staterooms and with 15 water-tight compartments in her hull to make her non-sinkable.

THE GREEN-EYED ACCOMPLICE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SIR NORMAN GREYES, formerly of Scotland Yard, joins the chase of MICHAEL SAYERS, famous criminal. Sayers, masquerading as Thomas Pugsley, broker, is recognized by Greyes, who sends a police inspector to arrest Sayers on the street. Sayers shoots the inspector and escapes. Returning to his home, Michael questions his maid.

JANET SOALE. Later at the golf club he finds Greyes seated in the grill.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

Sir Norman Greyes' Side
I RESIGNED my position at Scotland Yard for two reasons. First, as a protest against an act of gross injustice which, although it did not affect me personally, was still bitterly resented by the majority of my fellow-workers, and secondly because, through the unexpected death of a distant relative, I succeeded to a baronetcy and a sufficient income. I spent the best part of three years in travel, nearly half of which time I was in the United States. On my return to London I found myself much against my will, hankering after my old profession. It was very clear to me that my old department had lost the mastery it had once had over the criminal world. The problems of several cold-blooded murders and various large and daring robberies remained entirely unsolved. In the intervals of my country life, I began to study these from an outsider's point of view, chiefly from the columns of the newspapers, but also to some extent from hints and information supplied to me by my friend, Inspector Rimmington, who had been one of my colleagues in the old days and now held the post which I had vacated. Gradually I came to a certain conclusion, a conclusion which I kept largely to myself because I felt sure that no one at the Yard was likely to agree with me. I decided that the majority of these undetected crimes were due to one person, or rather to one gang of criminals presided over by one dominant leader. Directly from the developed instinct by my long years of service in the police department, I set myself the task of hunting down this super-criminal.

dead at his post. No trace of even a single article of this jewelry had ever been discovered. The second crime was the robbery of a number of bonds from a messenger in a railway carriage on the London, Chatham and Dover line. The messenger was also shot, but recovered after six months' nursing, although he could never give any coherent account of what had happened to him. The bonds were disposed of in South America. The third was the robbery from Lord Wenderley's house in Park Lane.

There were other crimes which I thought might be connected with these; but these three, for various reasons, became linked together in my mind as the outcome of one man's planning. I set myself the task of discovering this one man, and the day came at last when I really believed that I was in a position to lay my hand upon him. There is no necessity to detail the evidence which pointed to this man. It is enough to say that after watching him for three weeks, I became convinced that a man of the name of Thomas Pugsley, carrying on business in Bernersley, was a leather broker, and living apparently the most respectable of lives at Beixton, was in some measure connected with these crimes.

I discovered that Pugsley's leather-broking business was prosecuted without energy or attention, that his frequent absences from London were not in neighborhoods where his wares could be peddled, and that he was often away for a month at a time, with his whereabouts unknown, even to his landlady. The latter was a highly respectable woman at whose house he had lived for the last two years, and whom I honestly believed was ignorant of her lodger's adventures, habits and business. By taking rooms in the neighborhood, I easily discovered all that she knew and one or two circumstances which had color to my suspicions. I placed these before Rimmington, and a search was decided to make an arrest.

A more clumsy piece of business than this bungled arrest was never planned or carried into effect. The traps were placed in charge of the able-bodied Rimmington, and his two subordinates, arrived at Beixton an hour later than the time fixed upon, arrested Pugsley in the street, and were very soon made aware of the class of person with whom they had to deal. Before the inspector could get out half a dozen words, he was lying on the pavement with a bullet through his shoulder. His companions dragged him to the pavement and set him up against the railings. Then they turned to look for Pugsley. There was not a trace of him to be discovered anywhere. The amazing skill and cunning of the man was amply demonstrated at that moment. By some extraordinary means he seemed to disappear from the face of the earth. The morning which witnessed, however, the shooting of the inspector and the remarkable disappearance of the man in whom I was so deeply interested, was memorable so far as I was concerned, for another noteworthy incident. Absolutely disgusted with the result of my six months' labors, I determined to wipe the whole thing from my memory, and traveled down to Woking with the intention of playing a round of golf. I was attracted by the scenery to a resident of the place where I was to play, a man named James Stanfield, and we had a round which ranks among the best I ever played in my life.

Stanfield was a silent but by no means a gloomy person. He appeared to be about forty years of age and an absolute golf maniac. He played every shot with the most ridiculous care, but I must confess with also the most wonderful precision. His drives were never long, but they were long enough for him to escape trouble, and in the approximate eighty shots which he took to complete the course, I cannot remember one that was in any way fluffed or fozzled. He beat me at the seventeenth hole, and it was while we stood together upon the eighteenth tee that the incident happened which was to bring still more excitement into the day.

On our right was a small planting of shrubs through which wound the path which my partner pointed out to me as leading to his house. Our attention was attracted by the continued barking of a small dog which had wandered from the adjacent footpath. I had the curiosity to walk a step or two into the shrubbery to see what was the trouble. My companion, however, who was a little on my left, was the first to discover the cause of the dog's excitement. At a little cry from him I hurried to his side. Struck upon his back, with extended arms, and a small blue hole in his forehead, we found the body of a man. He was dead but still warm, and by an extraordinary chance I at once recognized him. He was one of the two plain-clothes policemen whom I had seen in Wollerton Road, that morning, joined in his attempt to arrest the man who had been passing under the name of Thomas Pugsley.

Janet Soale's Explanation
JUST before midday on Thursday, the third of November, my master made one of his unexpected reappearances. I was not surprised. Only the night before, I had dreamed of him, and it seemed to me impossible that with my passionate prayers going out day by day, he should stay away much longer. When I first saw him turn in at the gate, I was filled with excitement. If he could have seen me at that moment, he would have known and understood everything. By the time he had reached the front door, however, and I let him in, I had regained my self-control. I must have seemed to him just the ordinary well-mannered, well-conducted parlor-maid.

He changed his clothes and went off presently for his round of golf. When I went to his room to brush and press the clothes which he had taken off, I found, however, that he had placed them in a drawer and apparently locked it. The discovery, coming on top of many others, gave me food for thought. I resolved to watch the next morning's newspapers. It was becoming more and more clear to me that there was something in my master's manner of life which he was anxious to conceal from the world. I was the more convinced of this when I saw that in the top drawer, which he had opened to take out a tie, he had concealed a small revolver, loaded in all six chambers.

YOUNG BANDITS SAY GOODBYE TO CHILICOTHE
CHILICOTHE, February 23.—“Goodbye old Chillicothe, it will be a long time ‘til we see you again,” was Louie Eiben's parting salutation Wednesday morning as he and his companions, John Kmetz and William Sigan, left for Mansfield in charge of

Deputy Carey Shepherd and two assistants, sworn in for that duty. Thus, in less than a month's time, three desperate bandits are put away for safe keeping. On January 30 the boys committed a daylight hold-up at the South-eastern Loan Office on East Main street. Two days later they were captured at Huntington, W. Va. Despite post tests of Cleveland, Ohio, officials they were returned to this city for trial. Eiben and Kmetz were identified as the so-called Matt and Jeff robbers of Cleveland, having committed no less than nine sensational crimes there.

Public Give's Approval To New American Legion Home

A reception and dance marked the "open house" held by James Dickey post, American Legion last night when the new Legion home Seventh and Gay streets was thrown open for public inspection. Brumfield's Blue Grass Seven furnished music all evening and during the late hours played for the dancers.

Those who visited the hall last night were of the opinion that the James Dickey Post has an ideal home and one that should be enjoyed by every member. In addition to the large hall there are several adjoining rooms that have been fitted up with easy chairs, reading tables, reading light, and a large lounge. These rooms are always open to Legion members and they are urged to make use of them. The auditorium of the former church has been converted into a splendid hall for the regular meeting of the organization and within a few minutes, with the removal of the seats it can be thrown into a dance hall or gym. There is a hardwood floor, well polished, that makes it fine for dancing. There is also plenty of gym equipment on hand where a member may take a workout or exercise. Shower baths have been installed and after exercise in the gym it is but a few steps to the showers.

There is also a kitchen where refreshments for the various social functions may be prepared. Not a detail has been overlooked that will provide comfort for the Legion member. There is also an office room where the Commander, Adjutant or other officer may transact the business of their offices.

The interior decorating has been carefully worked out in colors that blend and are most pleasing. The window draperies were carefully chosen by Legion Auxiliary members and have been hung with the utmost care. Pictures of noted American soldiers and statesmen adorn the walls. The most valued picture of the collection is one of the late Colonel James Dickey of this city in whose honor the local Legion Post was named.

Every person who attended the "open house" session last night received a favor handed out by Leg Scouts, a booklet in which is outlined the purpose and aim of the American Legion.

The committee in charge of the "open house" affair was composed of Attorney Russell McCurdy, J. J. Marsh and Anson Jones.

James Dickey Post under the leadership of Commander Harold Clayburn is working hard to increase the membership of the Legion here and with every member working to get a member, close to 250 ought to be added to the roll. The increase in membership is desired before July 1st for expected financial assistance to be based on membership of Posts on that date.

Local auto dealers at a meeting at the Mary Louise last night paid some bills in connection with their recently highly successful Auto Show and planned to hold another one next year. The dealers are enthusiastic about the success of the recent show and plan to improve it next year.

There will be plenty of entertainment for the kiddies. In addition to the funny clowns, there is the dog and pony act, the bally mule, comedy, juggling, the Flying Tarzans and other acts that will delight the youngsters.

The doors for the matinee performance opens at one o'clock and the show begins promptly at 1:30. Admission is ten cents.

The circus which has been open all week will come to a close Saturday night.

Helps To Spring Costuming

Spring has come to the store with costumes that glow with oriental color and proclaim the inimitable touch of Paris, the stylist.

From such a display you can imagine how pleasant it will be to assemble your Spring wardrobe.

Nor are postumes all, for in the Fabric Section are many billowy bolts awaiting the magic touch of your nimble fingers to transform them into costumes that are delightfully individual.

Breezy New Modes

Put You in the Mood for Balmy Spring Days

Along with the first robin and the first crocus came these new fashions as harbingers of Spring. The swish of taffeta frocks, the nonchalant flare of swagger topcoats, the jaunty bolero jackets of many suits that smack of the carefree troubadour, the bandana scarfs and girdles and ties that hint of the rover and the wanderlust spirit of Spring are all sure signs that breezy, balmy, sunshiny days are not far behind. But mind you, these Spring fashions are not in profusion. Just a selected group of the most distinctive styles have been assembled to meet the fashion whimsies of women who enjoy donning the things that are very new.

WRAPS

Flare Into Fashion Favor

Whether it is a Topcoat that flares slightly from shoulders to knee or a more pretentious Wrap with a cape back or at least cape sleeves that flare it amounts to this—a flare somewhere is the distinguishing style detail of the new Spring Wraps. One Wrap shows a pert up-standing collar and it is this type that divides equal honors with the shawl collar.

COATS, AND CAPES of Brighton, Exeello, Bolivia and Tricotine at $32.50 to $69.50.

SPORT COATS of delightful Polo, Camel's Hair and Herringbone models at $12.75 to $39.

SUITS

Of Balkan Or Bolero Charm

Not in a long time have Suits struck so youthful or buoyant a note. Of course it's the costume Suit that is first in favor, jacquette snugly banded at the hips in balkan fashion or a trig little bolero that carries out the color scheme or trimming idea of the accompanying frock.

DELIGHTFUL SUITS of Poiret Twill and Tricotine at $39.50 to $50.

Regal Records 49c

Everybody buys Regal Records at Anderson's on Saturday. Hundreds await your choosing tomorrow. Latest dance hits, most popular songs, choicest standard and sacred numbers.

FROCKS

With A Fondness For Flat Crepe

Maybe it is true—to wear a Spring suit or wrap you must at least wait for mild days, but not so with a Spring Frock. Most women have so tired of the ones they are wearing that the chance to freshen up their wardrobe at this season with a Spring Frock is not overlooked. Circular tiers and side panels feature Frocks of flat crepe. Bouffant taffetas and printed crepes are also a la mode.

SMART FROCKS of Flat Crepe, Canton, Printed and Crepe Elizabeth at $16.95 to $65

JACKSON

(Margaret Miller, Correspondent.)
The parlor of the Presbyterian church was well filled Wednesday afternoon when the local W. C. T. U. held its Frances Willard Memorial meeting. The meeting opened with devotional service led by Mrs. W. N. McDonald by singing of "Sweet Hour Hurd." This was followed by reading followed by prayer by Mrs. J. C. Hurd. This was followed by reading of the minutes of the January meeting and reports of Treasurer and Committee on Quarters. Important business was then transacted, presided over by the president, Mrs. Harriet Wardenbe. Mrs. McDonald had charge of the program for the afternoon, which consisted of reading of quotations from the writings of Frances Willard by the different members, with the song, "He Leadeth Me." Readings, "Five Little Glimpses of Frances Willard" by Mrs. Brady Rice; Frances Willard's "Widening Wave" by Mrs. J. W. Harbarger; Declaration of Principles, Mrs. Earl Johnson; Frances Willard, as an educator, Mrs. Eliza Long Brown; Frances Willard's Influence, Mrs. McDonald, which led into a beautiful memorial service for the late Mrs. Isabel Mitchell, a long time devoted member of the organization, concluding with her favorite hymn, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again." Mrs. J. E. McGhee, as head of that department, presented three new members, Mrs. Robert Rice, Mrs. Jasper Rice and Mrs. Spangler. The committee for the afternoon served dainty refreshments of cherry pie with whipped cream and coffee. The napkins and red hatched as favors were suggestive of the Washington birthday. A quaint idea in the way of decoration was the large bowl of white ribbon which occupied a conspicuous place in the room.

Eats Hearty And Puts On New Weight

Tanlae has bolstered up my appetite so that I'm always keen for a good meal and I don't have to limit myself now for everything agrees with me," is the statement made a few days ago by John M. Burke, 2016 W. 25th St., Cleveland, O., switchman for the N. Y. Central.
"My appetite had simmered down to almost nothing and indigestion caused such a burning, bloating feeling in my stomach that I almost dreaded to sit down to a meal. I had severe headaches and dizzy spells and my back ached terribly. I was so nervous I couldn't half sleep and it was certainly hard for me to keep going.
But Tanlae has switched me back on the track to good health and I feel so grateful towards the medicine it's about all I want to talk about these days. Why, I have gained ten pounds in weight and can throw switches with any of the boys now. I can't say enough for Tanlae and my wife is also very enthusiastic over what it has done for me."
Tanlae is for sale by all good druggists. Over 25 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

The opening solo was "Oh To Be Kept."
The evangelist took as his subject a love story and showed that the Bible is the greatest love story in the world. So many people only read it in fragments, not as fiction. The result of loving is giving. Love to God means giving all—giving your best.
The speaker related many instances to show that God was not to blame for disaster, neither was God to blame for people being lost.
He answered the question why God loved us by telling how He created us, made atonement and gave His best for us. God's love is beyond our knowledge. Gypsy Smith urged the young people who come in large numbers every night to not let anyone shake their faith in the old book (Bible), and to not be misled by false prophets.
His closing solo was "Shadows."
His solos (two a night) are pleasing to all and frequent requests to repeat solos of his own composition are made.
Tonight's subject, "Is It Easy to Be a Christian? And Does It Pay?" Come with the crowd and enjoy the services of Gypsy Smith in sermon, story and song.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailments—clogged liver and disordered bowels.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets the substitute for Calomel.
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain.
Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. Live and 20c.—Advertisement.

Steel Officials Submit Plans For Proposed New Plant Here To C. Of C.; Action To Come Later

At a meeting of the Industrial Relations Committee of the Chamber of Commerce this morning, Col. H. P. Hope, president, and R. B. Oliver, general counsel, of the American Steel Corporation, who arrived in the city Wednesday in the interest of a new steel plant here, laid their plan before the committee and then went into details as to the assets of the corporation and their plan of operation.

The men are anxious to obtain a site of between 40 and 60 acres in this section, and are hopeful that the business interests of Portsmouth can see their way clear to provide a site of this size. The representatives also seek the cooperation of the local business men in the work necessary to establish a new plant that would be a specialty plant, turning out steel products that are in great demand in this locality. By doing this it is pointed out that considerable freight paid on shipping products to distant points would be saved. The men also point out that the Ohio Valley, especially this section of it, is well adapted to their needs as it is close to the iron ore and coal mines and has both rail and water shipping facilities.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold future meetings to go over the proposition and will then submit a report to the C. of C. Board of Directors. The Steel Corporation representatives invited here by Attorney Mark W. Crawford left the city this afternoon for Cleveland.

Goldie Hudson Shoots At Bird; Bullet Hits Tom Cole In Head; May Die

Claim Shooting Is Accidental; Police Making Investigation

Thomas Cole, 21 years old, well known chauffeur, is in a critical condition and will probably die as the result of a wound in his head, inflicted by a bullet fired accidentally, it is claimed, from a gun in the hands of his lover, Goldie Hudson, 28 years old, widely known dancer of the North End, where she formerly was proprietor of a resort.

The probable fatal shooting occurred at the woman's home, 1113 Thirteenth street, shortly after one o'clock Friday morning, when, according to the police investigation the couple were in the front room of the house. Miss Hudson accepted a challenge from Cole to shoot at a canary bird in a cage in the room when it started warbling and raising the pistol the woman fired, the bullet striking her companion in the head, the wound was a .32-calibre Colt revolver owned by the woman and the gun is now in possession of the police.

Cole's condition was regarded as extremely dangerous late this afternoon by the attending physicians, who have hesitated to attempt to extract the bullet because of its location in such a vital spot.

No charge has been placed against the gun user this afternoon, but Chief Distel indicated that a complaint would be filed against her later in the day. The chief went to Mercy hospital this afternoon with Prosecutor Skelton in an effort to obtain a statement of the shooting from the wounded man.

The Hudson woman has retained Attorney Horace L. Small to defend her in the event a charge is lodged against her.

Members of the Portsmouth Bakers' Association were complimented by Inspector Edwin James of the Ohio State Dairy and Food Commission yesterday at a meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce, when he said that he had made an inspection of the city and had not found a single violation of the law that prohibits the exchange of stale bread for fresh.

It was put into effect about a year ago, when quite an extensive educational campaign was made by the bakers and grocers to get the housewives to make known their bread wants early in the day so the grocers could place their orders with the bakers accordingly. Bread left by a baker at a grocery must be sold or thrown away by the grocer, for it cannot be taken back by the baker. Grocers and bakers found guilty of this practice are subject to a fine of from $25 to $100, Inspector James says.

There isn't a man living who can stand on the sidewalk and tell you whether a car is being driven by its first, second, or third owner, unless, of course, it is a brand new car just off the sales-room floor.

There isn't any way of distinguishing an automobile which was bought as a used car, from an automobile which was bought as a new car. They look alike. They sound alike. And they ride alike.

The only difference is that the owner of the used car paid less for the unused miles in HIS car, than the first owner paid for the unused miles in the same car when he bought it.

price for the privilege and satisfaction of driving the first five, ten, or twenty thousand of the usable miles of transportation. Such men, when they are ready for new cars, are just as glad to turn their cars in at comparatively low figures for the same privilege which prompted them to buy new cars in the first place.

So, in our used car display we have bargains which will astound even the most conservative. We have bargains which simply compel a man to buy. They are all good cars, cars which have been thoroughly inspected and which have lived up but a fraction of their utility. They are cars which no man living could spot as used cars for they look, sound, and ride like the cars which you see every day on our streets.

Ship Bill Ditched

WASHINGTON, February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—An end of the senate shipping bill fight appeared near at hand today through an agreement made behind closed doors for a temporary armistice in the filibuster which has blocked all business since Monday.

In executive session, the senate agreed to adjourn tonight at six o'clock, take up minor bills for two hours tomorrow and then proceed with the shipping bill, but with the possibility of a vote in the meantime on a motion for recommitment.

After the agreement administration leaders conceded that the ship-bill was "as good as dead." Not later than tomorrow night, it was said, the vote on recommitment would come and the bill would be interred with proper obsequies.

Missing Barber-Banker's Deals Said To Have Caused Half Million Loss

CHICAGO, February 23.—(By the Associated Press)—While authorities in various parts of the United States today continuing checking up the operations of Joseph M. Marcino, alias Joseph Diato, who rose from immigrant barber to buyer of banks and whose financial deals were reported to have caused losses approximately $300,000, reports here indicated that he might have committed suicide.

That theory found its inception in a letter written by Marcino from some point in Texas or in Mexico to Abraham Goldmann, of Chicago, his father-in-law, and who, according to investigators, supplied the missing man with funds in a greater or lesser amount. The letter, said to contain a minute account of the fugitive's financial career since its beginning here, was reported to indicate that Marcino might end his life so that creditors could realize on his life insurance policies totalling $100,000.

Today, Frank L. Taylor, a former railroad fireman finally advanced to president of the First National Bank of Warren, Mass., by the fugitive at a salary of $50 a week, faced arraignment in the federal court here, after the reported discovery of a $218,000 shortage in accounts of the Warren institution.

Marcino, as he was known in Buffalo, N. Y., where he acquired the controlling interest in the Bison Holding Corporation, the holding concern of the Niagara Insurance Company, the accounts of which investigators have declared are short $240,000. Is the son of an Italian baker, of Chicago.

While in Buffalo Marcino extended his holdings, buying the controlling interests in the Merchants and Mechanics Bank of Philadelphia, Pa., which failed last week, and the First National Bank of Warren, Mass., where the discovery of an alleged shortage caused officers to start search for the missing Marcino.

Texan Confesses To 4 Murders; Wants To Atone For Them

BALTIMORE, MD., Feb. 23.—Charles F. McCandless, 62, of Hurst, Texas, who confessed, according to the police, he killed four men in Texas and New Mexico between 1900 and 1910, and who claims there is a $10,000 reward for his arrest, surrendered to the police here today. His motive for surrendering, he is alleged to have told authorities, was that he is tired of living under assumed names and that he wants to visit his eighty-four-year-old mother in Hurst, Texas, who wants him to atone for his misdeeds before she dies.

Makes Signed Confession
McCandless, according to his signed confession to the police, had served as guard at various military camps throughout the West under the names of Jack and Richard W. Miller. Two years ago, he stated, while serving under the name of Richard Miller, he was chief guard of the Newport New Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. Elmer G. Barnes was another of his many aliases, he says.

McCandless also claims to have killed a fifth man, whose name he does not know. This killing, his confession states, occurred at a militia camp in Arizona in 1915 from which he deserted, after killing a guard.

Alleged Murder List
The list of men killed, as given in his confession:

A. Bill Walton, at Turnersville, Texas, in 1900.

Carl Woods, at Hico, Texas, in 1908.

"Bill" Tuck, alias "Tee" Dupree, at Clovis, New Mexico, in 1910.

It was for the murder of Woods, McCandless is alleged to have told the police, that the $10,000 reward was offered for his arrest.

Curing Habits and Banishing Pain by Suggestion

Fulop Voros Hypnotizing a Patient Who Is to Undergo a Minor Operation Without Anesthetic.

If you are in the grip of any "habit" from which you would like to break away, you will be interested in the achievements of Fulop Voros, a young Hungarian, who has effected a number of remarkable cures in this country by a method of "suggestion" which is attracting widespread attention among American physicians and scientists.

He makes use of hypnotism—but it is the kind of hypnotism that has the sanction of modern medical and psychological authorities, rather than the old charlatan methods that brought the Mesmers and "Svengalis" of a former generation into disrepute.

He is also making use of the same powers with partial success as a substitute for ether, chloroform and other anesthetics in minor surgical operations.

His work is based on the same theory of controlling the "subconscious" that underlies the system of M. Coue of which you are now reading and hearing so much, but his methods are totally different.

This basic theory, now more or less generally accepted by science, is that the unconscious mind, which never stops working whether you are awake or asleep, is the "factory" in which are manufactured the emotions and impulses and inclinations which really direct your life.

The "boss" of this factory is your will-power—your conscious mind. But it is not a thoroughly competent boss, and sometimes it is unable to make the "factory" obey orders.

For instance, suppose you have acquired the habit of smoking. You decide you would like to break yourself of it. But you find you can't. What has happened is this:

Your subconscious "factory" is grinding out impulses to smoke. Your will-power orders the factory to stop creating these impulses. But the factory, working along grooves which are deep down in your subconscious, refuses to accept the order—or perhaps fails to hear it—and refuses to make the change. Smoking is chosen merely as an example. It may be any habit which you wish to change.

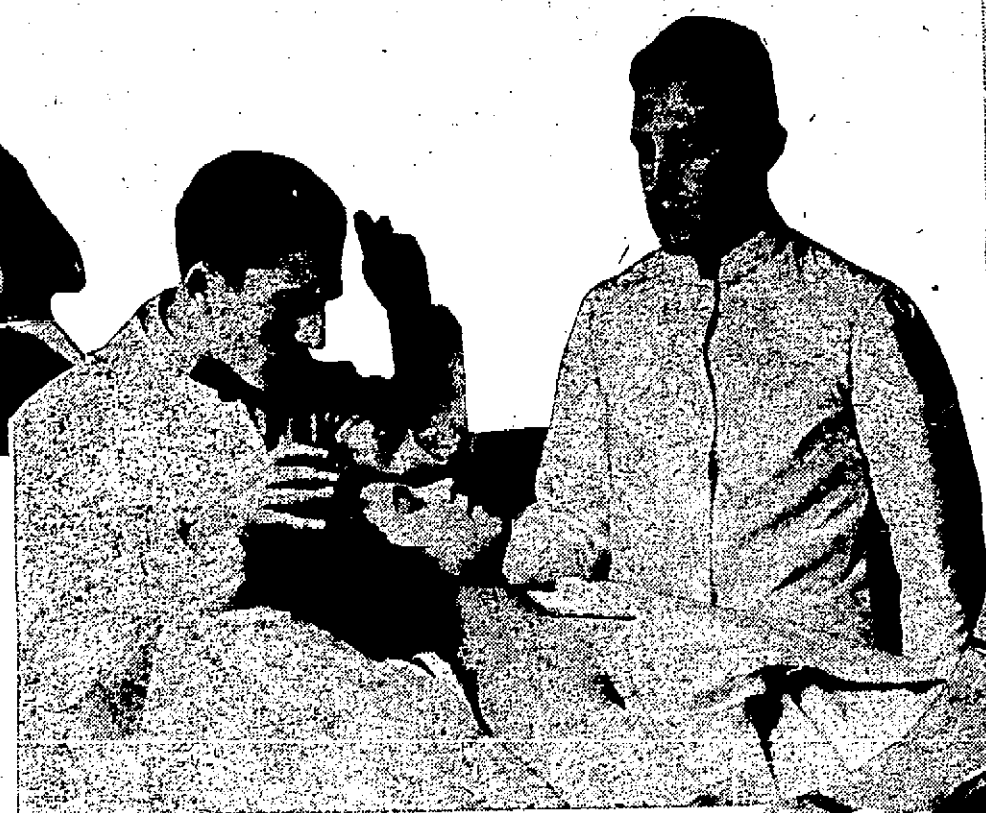

The problem is to reach and influence this subconscious mind by some other method than the direct command of your will—which has proven inadequate.

By the method of M. Coue, you are taught to "persuade" this subconscious where you have failed to "command" it. In practicing his method, you cure yourself. And this is called auto-suggestion, or self-suggestion. You try to reach your subconscious by gentle, indirect methods, through the imagination, at the time when it is most susceptible, when you are dozing, just before going to sleep, just after waking.

Marian Farley After an Abscessed Tooth Had Been Painlessly Extracted While She Was in a Hypnotic Trance.

"That Cigarette Tastes Like Castor Oil," Says the Benevolent Hypnotist, and Presto! Your Craving Is Gone. His Magic Words Also Take the Sting Out of the Surgeon's Knife.

Voros Awakening Miss Mary Korngut, Who Was Operated on by Dr. Irving Laudeutcher While in a Hypnotic State.

fore going to sleep, just after waking. You don't shout to it, "I WILL stop smoking." You don't say, "I command you to stop." You repeat gently over and over again without direct effort of the will, "I am going to stop smoking—I am going to stop smoking—presently I just won't care to smoke any more." And after a while, after many repetitions, this gradually seeps through to your unconscious and you find that you really don't care to smoke any more.

The method of young Voros is different. Instead of teaching you how to influence your own subconscious by auto-suggestion or self-suggestion, he substitutes his will-power for yours and communicates his wishes to your unconscious mind by his own direct, outside suggestion.

In order to do this, he hypnotizes the patient. Real hypnotism is not "magic" or trickery, nor is it connected in any way with "supernatural" or abnormal powers. It is simply the acquiring by another person, through your co-operation and consent, of temporary control over your unconscious mental processes. Only in the rarest cases is it possible for a hypnotist to hypnotize a subject against that subject's will. And even with consent, it is often impossible to gain complete control.

The complete stage of hypnotism is called

"somnambulism" or deep sleep, in which the patient is in a state of complete amnesia or unconsciousness to all happenings that occur during the period of the trance except those suggested by the hypnotist.

One of the most remarkable

Dr. Norman Flaster Painlessly Extracting a Tooth from a Patient Who Has Been Hypnotized by Voros.

She lighted one and inhaled as usual. "The next puff," he told her, "will taste as if slightly flavored with chocolate." This "suggestion" worked, and she imagined it was as he said. Then he told her it would taste slightly sour, and finally, after assuring himself that he was in control, he told her that another puff would taste like nauseating castor oil. She tried another puff, found the cigarette nauseating, and threw it away. He then told her slowly that after she had come out of the trance, the taste of tobacco would still suggest castor oil to her and that she wouldn't like it any more. After being thoroughly awakened, the suggestion remained firmly fixed in her subconscious, and according to her own statement she believes she is permanently cured of the habit.

In substituting the complete state of hypnosis for ether or chloroform in minor surgical operations, Voros has been working with Dr. Irving Laudeutcher of New York, a surgeon of established reputation and member of the American Medical Association.

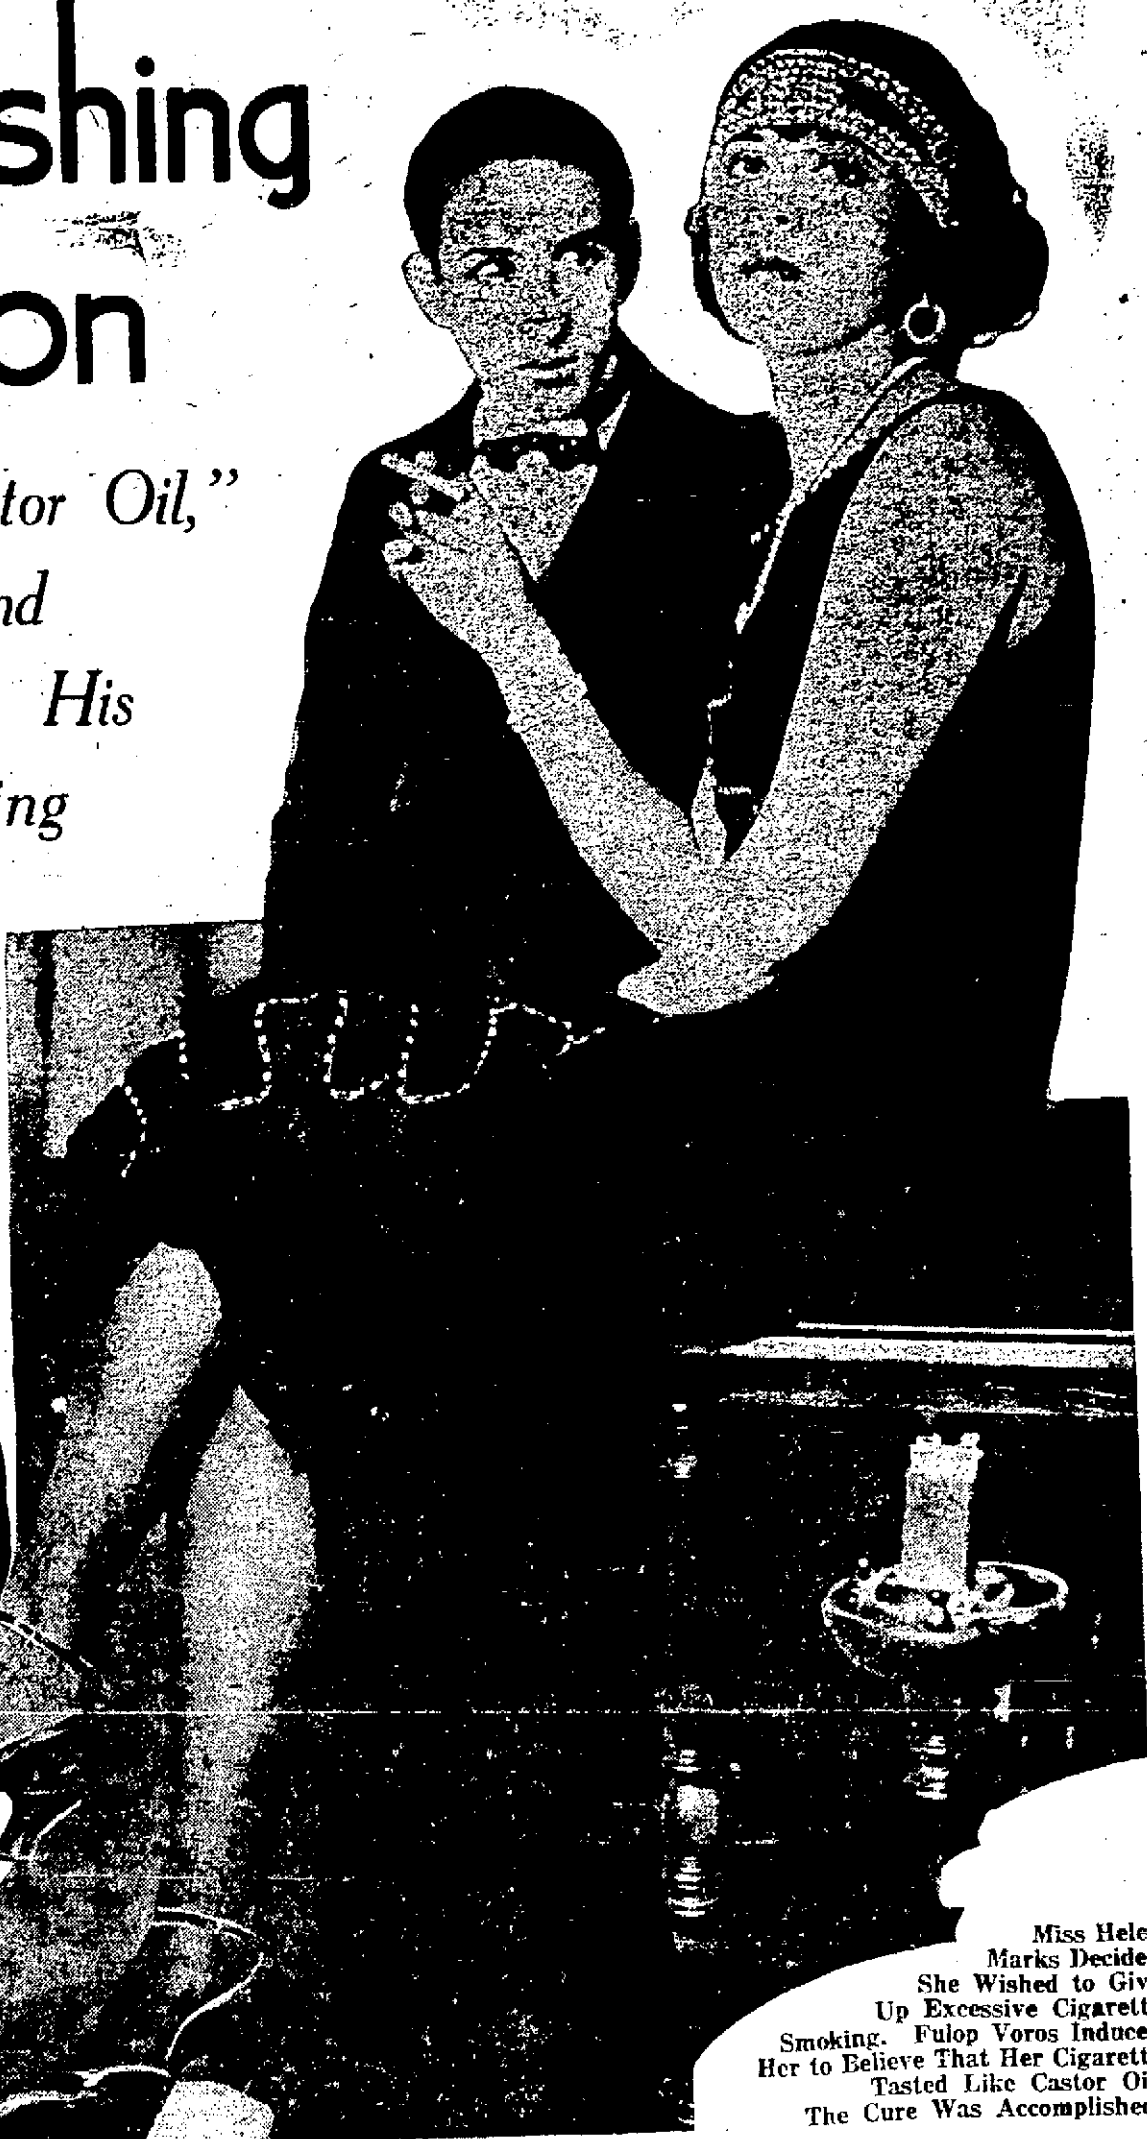

Before describing any of their cases it is necessary to state that neither Dr. Laudeutcher nor Voros himself believes or claims that hypnotism is an effective substitute for anesthetics in all such cases, or even in a majority of them.

The use of hypnotism as a substitute for anesthesia has been tried experimentally for many cures of habit by suggestion attributed to Fulop Voros is that of Miss Helen Marks of New York, who was addicted to cigarettes. From two or three a day, she gradually found herself consuming over twenty. Her physician told her it was a detriment to her health and to her professional work as an artist, and advised her to stop. She tried, but found the habit too firmly fixed.

She put herself under treatment by Voros, and allowed herself to be hypnotized. While in a state of somnolence or drowsiness—not complete amnesia—he told her to light a cigarette.

Miss Helen Marks Decided She Wanted to Give Up Excessive Cigarette Smoking. Fulop Voros Induced Her to Believe That Her Cigarette Tasted Like Castor Oil. The Cure Was Accomplished.

years, chiefly abroad. In some cases it has proved successful. In very many it has failed. It should never be undertaken except in co-operation with some surgeon of absolutely established reputation, and should never be put to the final test until a number of previous experiments have proved that the patient is really under complete control.

But it has proved very useful in a limited way, particularly in instances where the general physical condition of the patient makes the use of anesthetics dangerous or undesirable.

Such a case was that of Mary Korngut, who had a severe abscess on the arm, which required painful surgical treatment—a minor operation. An anesthetic could not be given because of the weakness of her heart. After she had submitted a number of times to the influence of Voros, and control was thoroughly established, the operation was performed while she was in a hypnotic trance. After she had been put in the trance, Voros told her that Dr. Laudeutcher was going to remove a corn from her foot—that it might be slightly unpleasant, but would not be painful. Then the operation, which involved some cutting, was performed on the arm. When she was awakened from the trance she examined her foot, to see what the doctor had done. While hypnotized, she had forgotten all about the arm. The foot was mentioned to make sure that her mind would be on a part of her body far removed from the actual place of the operation.

Marian Farley, also of New York, had a painful abscessed tooth extracted under similar conditions. In this instance Voros worked with Dr. Norman Flaster. When shown the tooth immediately after the operation, it is said that she refused to believe it was her own.

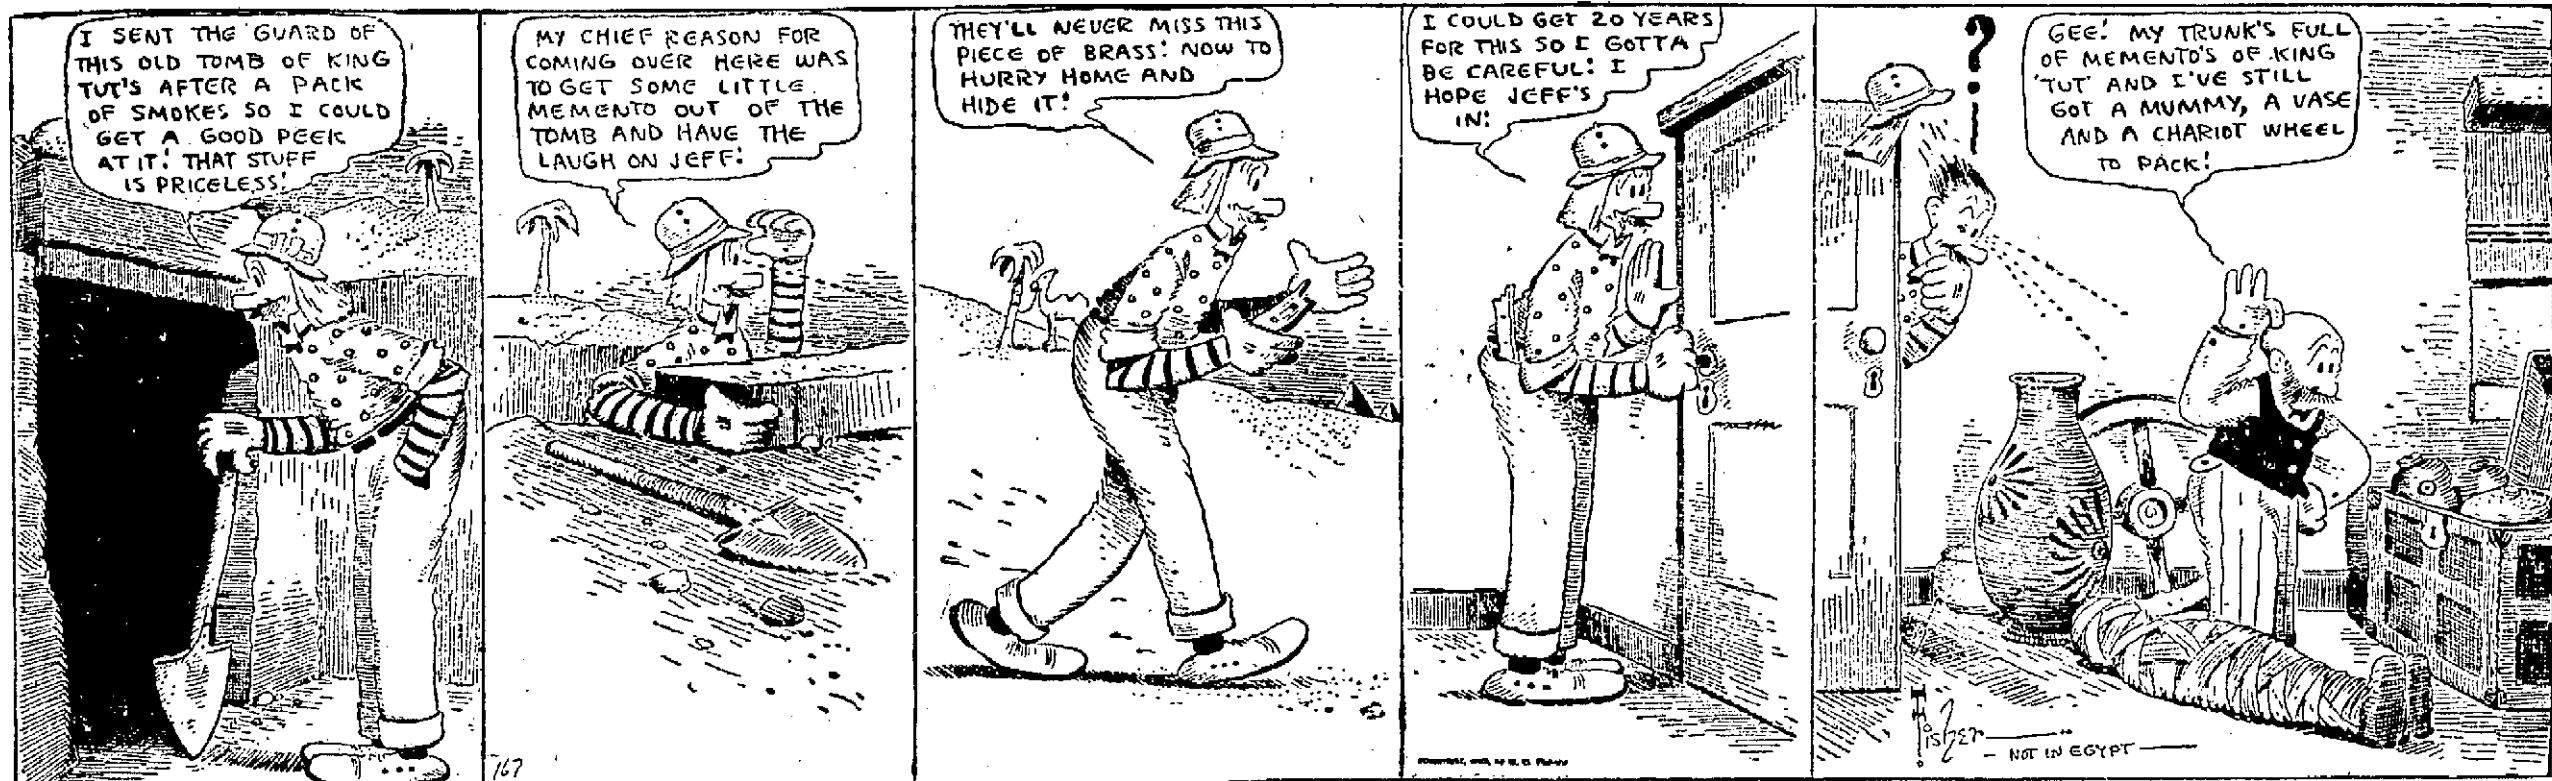

It must be stated in this connection that the use of hypnotism for such purposes is in the purely experimental stage. The standard American textbook on anesthesia by Dr. Gwathmey of the New York Academy of Medicine and Dr. Baskerville of the Washington Academy of Science, contains a long chapter on the subject in which it is seriously treated, and in which a number of successful operations are recorded. But leading surgeons and scientists are still divided on the scope and practicality of its future. The consensus of opinion is that it will necessarily be very limited, and should never be attempted without the utmost care and precaution.

On the other hand, the use of hypnotism and suggestion in the treatment of "habits" and nervous diseases is thoroughly established, and in this line particularly the work of Fulop Voros, the newest comer in the field, and of other older and more distinguished men, is being watched with the keenest interest throughout the world.

Chance Takes Steps To Secure "Farms"

BOSTON, February 23.—Manager Frank Chance said today that the Red Sox management was considering plans to purchase several minor league clubs with a view to developing players of pennant winning caliber.

"I don't think we will have much show of winning the pennant for several years," said Chance. "If our plans go through we will get control of a Class B club and a Class A team also. Possibly we will try to buy a double A club. In this way we hope to develop some mighty fine players."

BRANCH RICKEY IS STRONG FOR COLLEGIANS

When a fellow has a hobby it is hard to tear it away from him. There is Branch Rickey, who was baseball coach for the University of Michigan long before he became manager of the Cardinals, who is a hobby with Rickey in college ball players.

A brief sketch over his career shows that he does not believe the bridge between the college field and the major league circuit is too long to cover.

On the 1923 Cardinals are found Pitcher Dyer of the University of Texas, Pitcher Stuart of Ohio State and Catcher Harry McCurdy of the University of Illinois. Catcher Harry Vitek, with the University of Illinois last season, shared by Rickey last summer, has just been named to a minor league club by Rickey.

Johnny Lavin, a big league shortstop for 10 years, now with the Cardinals, was with Rickey at the University of Michigan. And let me not overlook the distinguished George Sisler, who topped from the Michigan football team to the American League. Further back there is Derrill Pratt, who agreed to join the St. Louis Browns while attending the University of Alabama.

Ernest Koob, a kid shortstop, who was a sensation for two years in the American League, was plucked by Rickey from Kalamazoo University, Wayne, Michigan, at present a member of the St. Louis Browns' staff.

The "big four" in the race for the title are Frank Jackson of Kettering, O.; Frank Landin of New London, Ia.; present title holder; C. C. Davis, Columbus, O.; and Harold Falor of Akron, Ohio.

Jackson has seven more contests to be played while each of the others has eight. All four won their last game yesterday.

Of six entrants in the women's championship tournament, Mrs. J. Frank Jackson of Muskegon, Mich., won the title with five straight victories.

WORKMAN HAS CHANCE TO SHOW HIS ABILITY

Noel Workman, Ohio State quarterback in 1922 and in 1923, announced yesterday that he had accepted the position of athletic director at Simpson College, Indianola, Iowa.

In addition to coaching the football basketball and track teams at Simpson, Workman will teach physical education of intramural athletics.

Workman, one of the brightest football players developed at Ohio State in years, took the Simpson job, in preference to several others because of the possibilities it offers.

Simpson is a Methodist school having an enrollment of about 500, with a splendid football field and with the most complete gymnasium in the state of Iowa.

Nix, Says Rocky

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Acting upon the polite request from Chairman Muldon, of the New York Boxing Commission, that he hand back the weight forfeit of $2,500, which he took from Charley White when the latter was not under a pound overweight when Kansas beat him the other night, Kansas notified the commission today that he would not return the money as he had a legal right to it, and would go to court rather than give back a penny to White. White, it is understood is disliked in Buffalo, which is the home town of Kansas, because he took a forfeit from Frankie Schell when the latter was to have fought White in Buffalo.

Ashland Kittens Here Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow night the biggest attraction of the season on the P. H. S. girls' basketball schedule will be offered P. H. S. fans in the local high school gym for it is the date set for the annual visit of the Ashland High Kittens.

Catch Charlotte Bell is sure her team will be able to make a better showing against the Kentucky champions than ever before. The Ashland girls have been winning from the Red and Blue girls for several seasons and it is the desire of the locals to turn the tables tomorrow night.

The P. H. S. ladies have improved wonderfully since the opening of the season and have been playing a fine game since meeting the Kittens on the Ashland floor. Their line game with Gallipolis, one of the best girls' aggregations in this part of the state, showed that the local midly blouse wearers formed a team that was hard to beat.

The game tomorrow night will start at 8. Admission 25 cents.

WHEELERSBURG FLOOR SKIPPERS TRIPPED BY IRONTON III

The Wheelersburg high school quintets did not have a chance last night when they played in the big Ironton gym, the I. H. S. boys winning, 40 to 14 while the I. H. S. girls hung up a 12 to 7 victory. The Wheelersburg lads were simply lost on the big floor and their usual defensive work was missing last night.

More Than $500,000 Involved In Deal Which Sends Mat hewson To Boston Braves

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The deal by which a New York syndicate, headed by Christy Mathewson, bought the Boston National League club from George Washington Grant, involved more than $500,000, it was disclosed today by James MacDonough, New York banker, who with the former Giant pitching star and former Judge Emil Fuchs, also of New York, acquired all of Grant's interests.

Mr. MacDonough, who is vice president of the Columbia Bank, refused to discuss further financial details except to admit that he held a half interest personally. He confirmed the announcement in Boston that Mathewson held a substantial interest and added that he and Mr. Fuchs would serve as trustees under the new contract.

Wants Boston On Map

"Our prime interests," Mr. MacDonough declared, "is to put the Braves back on the baseball map as pennant co-leaders and we are anxious to have Boston interests take a leading share in the club's reorganization."

Mr. MacDonough asserted that while he had no intention of disposing of his interest in the club now, he would be willing to allow Boston interests to come into the enterprise. It was the aim of the syndicate which had taken the team over, he said, to have Boston men in control of the board of directors. The banker denied emphatically that officials of the New York Giants or any other major league were connected with the syndicate.

Mathewson, he said, is now acting as treasurer as well as president of the Braves, and would have a free rein, using the knowledge gained in his long diamond career to co-operate with Manager Fred Mitchell in team affairs, in addition to handling executive matters.

Mr. MacDonough has been an ardent fan for many years, but has had no previous official connection with organized baseball.

When Cook Faces An Emergency

BY BERTHA E. SHAPLEIGH

OF Columbia University

Like everybody else, the housekeeper occasionally finds herself face to face with an emergency— inability to do her usual work, the sickness of some member of her family, the unexpected departure of cook or maid, unscrupulous contractor, a tradesman's failure to deliver supplies on order.

For such hand material for certain dishes she can prepare quickly.

Food In Cans

Canned fruits, vegetables, meat, fish and soups meet most requirements.

Dried or evaporated milk can be used with just as good results as fresh. Evaporated milk easily takes the place of cream.

A can of cracker crumbs, made by rolling any broken, unsweetened crackers, a tin of dried bread crumbs, a pair of grated cheese, all help to make a dish simple and speedy.

A can of clam broth and a can of vegetable soup, put together, give a good chowder.

It is well to sift together flour, baking powder and salt and keep this mixture in a tightly covered tin. Biscuits or dumplings can be made thus in a few minutes.

Makes Good Dessert

For a quick dessert, open a can of fruit, heat to the boiling point and in it drop tiny dumplings. Cover closely and cook 10 minutes. Serve with or without cream.

Mayonnaise and boiled dressing can be kept in jars, ready for use, and in a short time we can serve a fruit salad.

A little thought ahead, and without "making an emergency" each day, much worry and irritation are avoided.

Walter, "Shorty" Brodbeck, caging the ball 39 times out of fifty trial shots was the highest score man in the Boy Scout Free Throw Tourney which opened yesterday morning at Wilhelmette Hall and which will not close until tonight owing to the increasing number of entries late last evening. Frances Ballenger of Troop Eight (colored) was the next highest. He made 30 shots out of 50 trials.

Brodbeck stands a fine chance of winning the tourney.

A CONTRAST

THE most reliable estimate of what Germany has paid to France in the way of reparations, both in money and kind places the figures at $2,400,000,000. This is said to be generous to the Germans. On the other hand an estimate conservative on the side of France places the expenditures of the latter in the way of restoration of the devastated territory at $7,000,000,000 and much more will be needed to complete the work.

If France which suffered so enormously in a material way is able to produce to devote the rehabilitation more than $4,000,000,000 in excess of what she has received, does it seem reasonable that Germany, which suffered not at all from war's material devastation, has done all she could when the above sum is all she has paid?

It is a balance sheet which shows the falsity of the claims made that Germany is exhausted. It abundantly proves bad faith. France may have adopted an unwise policy of collection—some of her loyal friends while sympathizing with her fear she has—but under the circumstances she seems justified in taking any steps which will produce tangible results. Germans may whine but such a course does not diminish in any way their failure to pay what they could, not because of inability but through determination not to do so.

When in 1871 Germany quartered an army on France to remain until the indemnity should be paid, Frenchmen went to work to discharge the obligation as quickly as possible in order to have the Prussians out of their sight. If the Germans had possessed a spirit of patriotism similar to France much of the reparations would have been paid ere this. The disparity in action under similar circumstances exhibits the contrast in the patriotism of the two peoples.

Germans may sing Deutschland-über Alles but if they were really inspired by the song they would have kept the French out of the Ruhr by an honest effort to meet their obligations.

SUCCESS

ACHIEVEMENT is not always success, while reputed failure often is. The most successful men are not necessarily the ones noisily attracting public attention. The best and most useful women are not the bright butterflies of fashion or the stage, whose press agents incessantly flaunt their pictures and their petty doings before the public.

The unlauded men and women who are quietly attending to their own little duties, every day contributing something substantial to general industry, prosperity and progress, rearing children in habits of useful work and right living and supplying examples that elevate the moral and intellectual level of their little communities—these are the men and women of real influence and power.

Success is theirs in the fullest measure. It is not given all to have success as gorgeous as the rainbow. But no matter. Success consists in doing one's best. Indeed, the real success is more in the trying than in the achieving. We may achieve by accident, by help of others, by chance conditions or by other forces that are not ours. But our efforts are all our own. It is our purposes and our efforts that are a part of our very selves.

How shrunken and pitiful a thing, how hollow a delusion, is the shining so-called success of self-absorbed men and women. They have only the husks of life's golden grain.

Like that soldier under Galerius who found a shining leather bag filled with pearls and cast away the pearls but carefully preserved the bag, these self-absorbed ones are spruening true riches, real success, to hug to their hearts things that are empty and worthless.

Too many women have got into the public eye through a bullseye.

Some reformers are so close to heaven that they never get down to earth.

Jaywalkers sometimes prove easy marks for persons hunting in automobiles.

The average man can not understand how persons from whom he buys learn so quickly that he has had a raise in pay.

If the two Greek princes now in this country get tired of living on their wives' money, they can probably find openings for restaurants.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—Thoughts while strolling around New York: Early morning golfers. Audacious, hip flaring breeches. Cordovan brogues. And I must slave away. He'll not lackaday and odds bodkins. There's Oliver Herford. Called the witliest man in New York. Wish he'd pull a sophisticated cravie. That's Boscon for wise-crack.

Song pluggers getting their assignments in Tin Pan Alley. That fellow is trying to be dignified with the hiccoughs. I've tried it. It can't be done. Bustanoby's has opened at the old stand. In the other days they had a ladies bar.

Seamen leaving their shabby lodgings for the water-front. Careless and swaggering. Off for Hongkong, Lito and where not. Oh, for a starlit night, a full orb moon and the bounding wave. I better cut down on the cigarettes.

Max Marx, the theatrical tailor. Evelyn Thaw's tea room is now a plumbing shop. And the Winter Garden has been made over. The gloomiest block in New York—Fifty-third street between Sixth and Seventh Avenues. And around the corner the most fascinating curio shop in the world.

A dance academy teaches "The Ankle Dance." That's a new one. I thought they only danced with the hips. Wonder if there is anything to all this talk of phantom rum vessels along the coast. The aristocratic section of West End Avenue. Only way I could get in one of those homes would be to deliver something.

A row of select schools for boys. Freight with dignity. And the thin air of Puritan restraint. A few blocks away the emotional Hall's Kitchen rubbed raw by Life itself. Austere boarding house keepers who spend their summers in Paris and their winters listening to whining guests.

Picturesque Lincoln Square. Here are hang-outs for many gentlemen adventurers of the underworld. Cops go in pairs. A slangy talking section. I knocked over a clothing store dummy. And here comes the proprietor. Business of shunting the onus. Slang for "passing the buck."

In a little eatery, dark and dank, near Columbus Circle, the patrons are mostly professional clairvoyants.

So I'm studying Marconi. And the wireless control. For a way to guide the tractor. Where'er my thoughts may roll. It will surely prove a wonder. When I get the thing to go. And can plant and spray potatoes. And dig by radio.

Charles H. Chesley.

Placing Him. Guest—There's an awfully weak bed in that room you gave me. Hotel Clerk—You said you were a light sleeper.

"You were not very complimentary in speaking of Scribner's new book." "Didn't I say it would sell by the trainload?" "That's just the point I'm making." —Birmingham Age-Herald.

Troubles of the Skipper

Captain Noah—Well, what's wanted now? Monk (the steward)—Those flea creatures are demanding another dog to pasture their family on.

Just the Kind

She—I do not care to marry you. I do not care even to talk to you. He (a widower)—That is precisely the reason I want you to marry me.

Best Ever?

Anthony—Don't you think my dancing has improved? Adele—Marvelously! Why it has everything skinned—including my ankles.—"Topics of the Day" Films.

Willing Pupil

Minister—Would you care to join us in a new missionary movement? May—I am crazy to try it; is it anything like the fox trot?—Weymouth (Mass.) Gazette.

GOOD MANNERS

WHEN a bachelor gives a dinner to which women are invited there must be a chaperon. If there is a guest of honor she is seated at the host's right otherwise this seat is the chaperon's. Usually it is largely upon her good judgment and influence that the affair's success depends, and the host should thank her cordially upon her departure.
